

Board of Commissioners Close County Home Here

COUNTY HOME CLOSED — The Pickaway County Home was closed by the board of commissioners today. The ancient structure was first placed in operation in 1872 and at one time housed as many as 400 persons. Present population is 23.

The Pickaway County Board of Commissioners passed a resolution today which authorized the closing of the Pickaway County Home at the "earliest possible date."

Inmates of the county home and any other persons accepted as county charges are to be cared for in rest homes or in such private homes the commissioners may approve. Commissioners Lloyd Melvin, Wayne Hines and Charles Morris Jr. unanimously approved the resolution.

The cost of operation of the county home and the condition of the building were cited as the two primary reasons for the action by the board. The operational costs of the home are nearly $45,000 a year it was pointed out. Commissioners believe the current number of charges could be cared for at a county cost of about $10,000.

MANY of the inmates of the home would be eligible for aid from state and federal relief programs if not housed in the home.

Miss Pauline Reese, Picka-

way County welfare director, was appointed by the board of commissioners during today's session to assist in placing the 23 inmates of the home in rest homes or other suitable dwellings.

Expenses incurred which are not covered under state or welfare programs will be paid by the Board of Commissioners from county funds.

According to the commissioners, in many instances there is a duplication of funds available for the inmates. If they were not receiving county aid, they would be eligible for state or federal aid. A similar situation exists in the operation of the Children's Home, Morris said.

Spacemen Enter Final Training

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. plunged today into the final phases of training for their eight-day space journey scheduled to start Thursday.

The two astronauts took their first day off in several weeks and relaxed with sports Sunday. Cooper and astronaut Donald Slayton bobbed in a small boat in the Atlantic off Cape Kennedy and reported catching several fish. They said they hooked three sharks, but all escaped.

Conrad and astronaut Neil Armstrong took to the golf links at Port Malabar, about 40 miles from Cape Kennedy. Their scores were not reported. Armstrong and Elliott See are back-up pilots for the upcoming Gemini 5 mission.

Cooper, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, today returned to the long hours of rehearsal for their flight, the longest yet planned by man.

It will equal the time planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing trip. Medical experts hope the flight will erase any lingering doubts that man will be able to survive long enough in space to rocket to the moon and back.

Early in the flight, the astronauts are to attempt man's first rendezvous with another satellite. They will launch their own satellite from the spacecraft, back about 52 miles away from it and then use radar and other electronic aids to try to close within 20 feet of it.

It will be a major test for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October during which an attempt will be made to rendezvous and link up with another satellite which will be launched by another rocket.

Cooper and Conrad planned to spend most of today flat on their backs in a spacecraft simulator in the cape's mission control center. On the schedule were simulations of several launchings, key segments of the flight and failures.

Beatles Rated Better than World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The Beatles stood on second base, and for some 55,000 excited fans in Shea Stadium Sunday night it was better than the World Series, the All-Star game and 50 grand slam homers rolled into one.

The crowd—mostly girls, average age 15 to 16, and a sprinkling of boys and parents—couldn't hear much, despite 29 loudspeakers facing the horse-shoe-shaped stands. Most people, way up in the three balconies, couldn't see much either.

But many had a good raving cry—individual outbursts ranging from ordinary weeping and screaming to howling and hysteria with jumping up and down.

The nearly universal, sustained screaming prevented anybody hearing the Beatles' famous vocalizing and guitar and drum playing during their 35-minute, 12-song performance.

Probe Demanded By Brotherhood

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen demanded today an investigation of post office plans to close 70 gateway terminals and transfer mail service to trucks.

Charles Luna, BRT president, said in the Trainman News, the BRT's official publication, that Postmaster General John A. Gronouski's plan "can cost the nation thousands of railroad jobs, massive dislocation among postal employees and economic losses of staggering proportions to many communities."

A BRT spokesman estimated 40,000-50,000 jobs would be affected.

Luna called for a congressional investigation. "It is unthinkable that such a destructive impact on the nation's economy should be permitted by executive fiat of government head," Luna said.

Gateway terminals are mail redistribution centers in major cities across the nation.

Ohio cities affected by the proposal are Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Poor Luck Doesn't Dim Texans' Hope

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP) — It looks like two families of Texans who are determined to homestead near McBride, Canada, will reach their destination before fall despite their misfortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Freeman and eight children left six months ago from their homes near Bitter Creek, Tex., by wagon train.

The families were making about 20 miles a day on their 3,000-mile journey, but about a week ago they became stalled in Newcastle. They ran out of money and their equipment broke down.

More bad news reached them in Newcastle.

A representative of the Canadian Immigration Service advised them their homestead was not in shape for the winter.

Cunningham then learned from a friend in McBride that his homestead had been vandalized and all his equipment was stolen or destroyed. The equipment included a small sawmill, haying equipment, tools and household effects. Buildings reportedly had been wrecked.

Because of the loss of his Canadian assets, Cunningham could no longer sponsor Freeman's immigration to Canada.

The president of Highland Enterprises, Inc., Jack L. Campbell of Newcastle, heard of their predicament. He appointed Freeman as the company's representative for Alberta and British Columbia. Campbell agreed to furnish a truck to take the homesteaders the rest of the way to Canada.

The Texans plan to leave Newcastle about the middle of next week with their horse power harnessed to a truck, upon which their livestock will be loaded for the rest of the journey.

Fremont Couple Killed in Crash

MANKATO, Kan. (AP) — A Fremont, Ohio, couple were injured fatally in a two-car collision Sunday night on U.S. Highway 36, about 6½ miles west of Mankato.

The Kansas Highway Patrol said Paul S. Anderson Sr., 53, Fremont, was killed instantly and his wife, Ruth, also 53, died later in the Smith County Memorial Hospital in Smith Center.

Injured in the accident were the couple's son, William D. Anderson, 14, who suffered leg and chest injuries; Barbara Forsyth, 27, and Donald Forsyth, 28, both of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The patrol said the Forsyth car, pulling a trailer, skidded on wet pavement and was hit broadside by the Anderson car.

Two Girls Play Key Role In Viet Cong Terrorism

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—While two girl accomplices engaged a guard in conversation, Viet Cong terrorists drove a jeep and a car loaded with explosives into South Viet Nam's national police headquarters today and blew up several buildings.

Four policemen were killed by the blast and terrorist gunfire, reliable sources said. About 20 persons were wounded, including possibly six Americans, the sources said.

The terrorists escaped under cover of machine-gun fire from two other cars outside the police compound. A police guard claimed he hit one of the escaping men.

NATIONAL GUARD IN LOS ANGELES — Many of the 14,000 called National Guard troops moved out in a "major sweep" of Southeast Los Angeles to quell the rioting and looting by several thousand Negroes in the area. Acting Gov. Glen Anderson ordered the National Guard into action as Gov. Brown flew to Los Angeles after cutting short a holiday in Europe.

Gov. Rhodes Signs Record School Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes today signed the record $633 million school foundation bill passed last week by the 106th Ohio General Assembly.

The bill, retroactive to July 1, provides $108 million more for public schools in the current biennium (ending June 30, 1967) than in the last biennium.

It provides $200-a-year pay raises for public school teachers.

However, several state education groups have called for even more state money for schools.

The governor said in a statement, "this represents a huge step forward in our drive to be number one in all fields of education. This bill provides a record $137.31 for each pupil—up from $119.65 in 1964-65 and from $6.33 in 1962-63."

He added, "I highly commend all those who worked so hard to bring this important legislation into being," and singled out Finance Director Richard Krabach and House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, for special praise.

of violence Saturday or Sunday as police in the West Garfield Park area firmly pursued a policy of breaking up groups before they could become mobs.

More than 300 policemen patrolled the troubled area around the clock. Additional police stood by in nearby police districts and National Guards units were on standby duty at five armories.

This display of strength together with the strategy of banning groups and pleas from Negro leaders for common sense, were believed to be factors in easing the tense situation.

Violence erupted in the area after a Negro woman was killed by a fire truck responding to a fire call that turned out to be a false alarm. The rioting Thursday and Friday nights resulted in injuries to 67 persons and the arrest of 123.

Albert Raby, convener of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations, a civil rights group, expressed satisfaction with the restoration of peace but demanded that city officials investigate the cause of the outbreak.

"We're not going to be involved in keeping the peace at the price of injustice — continuing the status quo for these kids and others," he told newsmen.

Bike Rider Killed

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Richard Honeyman, 40, of Rt. 3, Troy, died in a hospital here early today several hours after an automobile hit the bicycle on which he was riding just west of the city.

Ronald Kaufman, 28, of Rt. 3, Arcanum, driver of the car, was quoted as saying he was blinded by the lights of another car.

Billy Graham Heading for California

MONTREAL, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, concerned about the Los Angeles riots, boarded a plane bound for Southern California today and planned to confer with a Negro aide there.

The rioting, which prompted Graham during the weekend to call for congressional action to curb violence, was to be the topic of a meeting with Ralph Bell, a member of the Graham crusade team in Los Angeles.

"Sinister forces in the country are trying to set race against race and class against class with the ruthless objectives of overthrowing the government," Graham said.

In an interview with the Asheville Citizen-Times, he said Congress should drop other legislative considerations immediately and pass legislation to curb rioting in Los Angeles, Chicago and Springfield, Mass.

"In this dangerous situation," he said, "we need new, tough laws as well as a great spiritual awakening in America."

Graham said the riots appeared to be "only the beginning—a dress rehearsal for revolution."

The evangelist called on Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to ask "civil rights leaders to declare a moratorium on demonstrations" until people have had an opportunity to digest recent civil rights legislation.

Speaking at Montreat-Anderson College Sunday night, Graham turned to the international scene and declared: "No individual preacher has a right to bypass the President and intervene."

Only last Friday, Dr. King said he was contemplating writing to the opposing sides in the Viet Nam conflict. One of his aides also has suggested that King, Pope Paul VI, Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev go to Viet Nam as a peace mission.

Escape Attempt At Pen Probed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary officials delved further today in the investigation of an attempted escape of an inmate, and said another inmate had told them he helped in the abortive plot.

Robert Schatzman, 30, of Columbus, was found sealed in a packing crate inside a truck just before it left the penitentiary grounds.

William Rose, 24, of Cleveland, serving a term for armed robbery, told officials he helped seal Schatzman in the crate. The escape plan failed when Schatzman became short of oxygen and shouted for help.

Police Keep Close Watch On Activity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comparative calm settled over the city's troop-encircled Negro riot zone today after a wild night in which violence spread for the first time to other Southern California cities.

At midmorning Police Inspector J. K. McCauley said: "This is by far the best day yet."

His headquarters in South Los Angeles received a few reports of shootings and looting but there were no massing of mobs and no arrests, he said. The toll on the sixth day:

Killed—32
Injured—811
Arrested—2,835

After five straight nights of rioting by uncounted thousands of Negroes, police removed most of the barricades in a 42-square mile "unsafe" zone and this morning residents moved about freely for the first time since Wednesday night.

Newsmen saw one convertible with its top down.

As relief authorities moved three tons of food into the burned and looted district, police and 15,000 massed national guardsmen kept close watch for possible renewal of sniping and fire-bombing in all-white areas.

A high-ranking police officer said the attacks Sunday night and early today seemed "planned and organized." He didn't say by whom.

Then, with the dark, came spreading violence:

—Negroes rioted in a Negro section of Long Beach, 15 miles south of the old riot center at Watts. Long Beach officer Richard Lefebvre, 23, was mortally wounded by a shotgun blast.

—Gunmen, identified by witnesses as Negroes, shot at homes in all-white Sylmar in the San Fernando Valley.

—Firebombs flared on Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood, and lumberyards were set afire in Wilmington, at the harbor, and near downtown Los Angeles.

Although police couldn't halt the sporadic attacks, they claimed virtual control over the Negro section where rioting first erupted six days ago. The first incident: an arrest of a Negro drunken driving suspect by white police. Thousands of rioting Negroes drove police from Watts.

Guardsmen from the California 40th and 49th National Guard Armored Divisions began to tip the scales Saturday night after Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson, acting in the absence of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, declared a state of insurrection.

Brown cut short his European vacation, returned here, and Sunday toured a Watts area subdued by more than 14,000 guardsmen and 1,000 police—but still ringing with bursts of sniper fire.

Brown's party turned back just short of an area where gunfire blazed.

The terror in the streets caused a rush among white citizens to arm themselves. Homeowners with guns watched through the night in countless homes.

Among the acts of violence: —A 47-year-old Negro woman's legs were "almost cut off" Sunday by a burst of 20 rounds from a National Guard machine gun at a Watts roadblock.

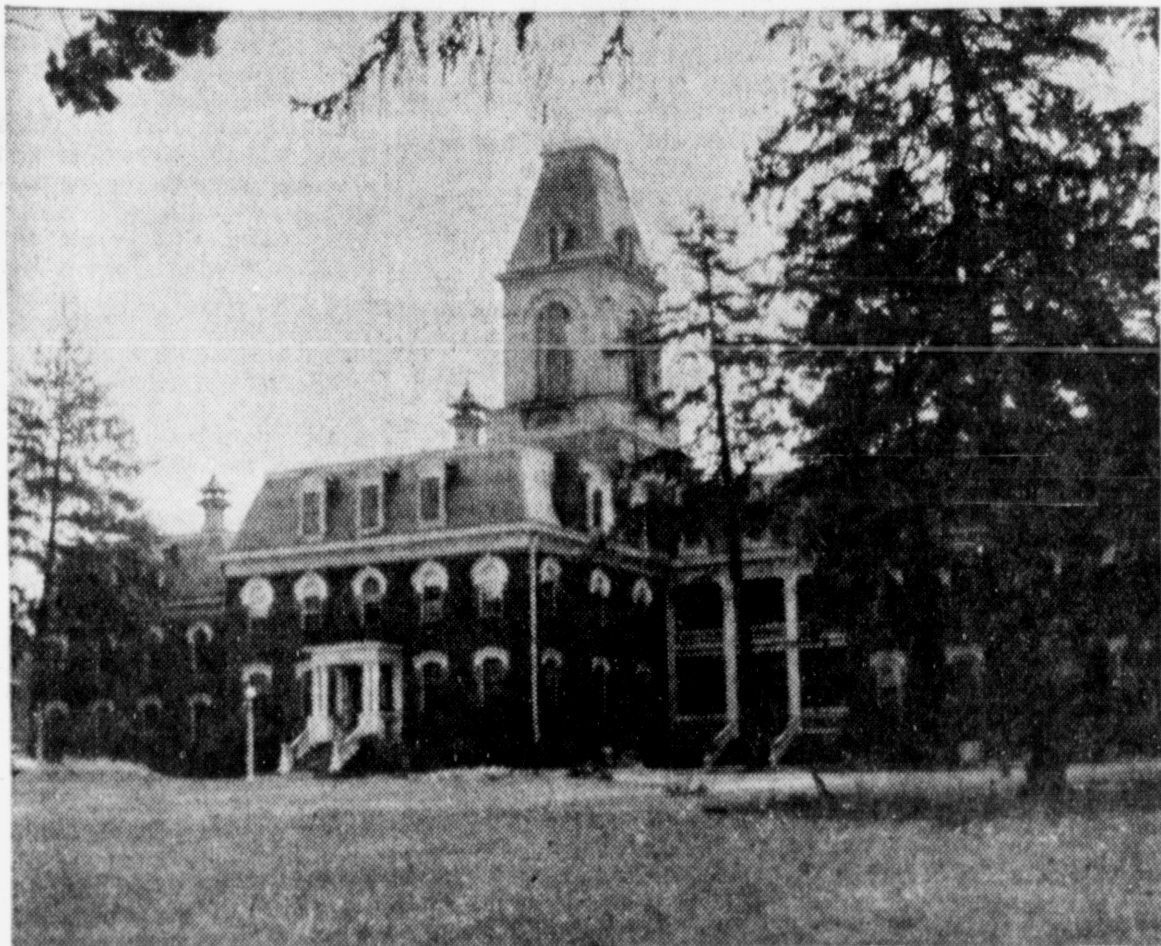

Guardsmen said she refused to halt. Police said her car held a dozen homemade fire bombs.

—A two-story apartment building in a white section in the harbor district was set afire Sunday night by a gasoline bomb. Police and firemen controlled it.

—A hidden gunman fired at cars on the Golden State Freeway Sunday night in Los Angeles. When police got there he was gone.

Rights Leader Has Trouble Within His Own Church

CINCINNATI (AP) — Civil rights leader Fred L. Shuttlesworth is having some trouble in his own Revelation Baptist Church, where some parishioners think he is too dictatorial.

Things came to a head with a loud altercation at the Sunday services where part of the congregation stood up to signify they opposed the pastor's policies. Some of them booed him and quiet was not restored for more than half an hour.

Both the Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth and Smith Tyler Jr., attorney for a group of dissident parishioners, said there was a disturbance but they differed in their accounts of what happened and whether or not a majority of the people present stood up.

Shuttlesworth, a Negro, came to Cincinnati from Birmingham, Ala., where he helped Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. during the bus boycott. He still goes to Alabama frequently to help the Southern Christian Leadership Conference with civil rights work.

Tyler said 200 of the more than 1,000 church members have signed a petition criticizing Shuttlesworth for his "dictatorial fashion" in dealing with deacons and trustees. He said the members want a general meeting to air their grievances.

Shuttlesworth admitted to newsmen he had opponents but said these included only a handful of people.

"The problem grew out of a disciplinary action and is pursued by others who have little knowledge of Baptist discipline and rules of procedure," he said in a statement. "There were no arrests made during this disturbance of worship because I believe that when passions cool and minds reflect, then the Word of God will prevail."

Police were called to the church during the disturbance, but did not enter it.

Peak Climb Fatal to 3

Fourth Man Hurt, Another Said Safe

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) Three mountain climbers were killed and a fourth climber was injured in a fall on South Maroon Peak, west of Aspen, Sunday.

Officials at Los Alamos, N.M. Scientific Laboratory said the dead were senior scientists at the laboratory, all having doctorate degrees. They were identified by the lab as Drs. Frank E. Pretzel, Robert B. Day and Herbert E. Ungnade.

The injured man was identified by the lab as William B. Martin, another laboratory employee but not a scientist. The lab said Dr. Donald W. McEachern, another scientist, was with the party but not injured.

Officials said they were vacationing in the Aspen area.

Martin was taken to the Aspen Valley Hospital. Although his injuries were not listed, it was reported he would recover.

All but McEachern were reported roped together as they descended over a snow field on the 14,000-foot peak in a mountain wilderness 10 miles west of Aspen.

One of the four was reported to have slipped and all four were dragged down a slope.

Dr. Robert Barnard, Aspen physician, and Alfred Braun, an experienced mountain climber, were flown to the area in a helicopter.

They found two men already dead and two others hurt, one obviously critically. He was hoisted on a stretcher to the helicopter, but the man was dead by the time the craft returned to Aspen.

Goldberg Slated To Unveil Policy On U.N. Voting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported ready to unveil a new U.S. policy today designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

Details of the U.S. plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

Goldberg was scheduled to outline the new policy in the assembly's 33-nation committee on peacekeeping operations. It was to be his first speech as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. He and Secretary of State Dean Rusk worked out the final draft of the plan over the weekend.

The former Supreme Court Justice has given top priority to the U.N. financial crisis since he succeeded the late Adlai E. Stevenson as spokesman for the Johnson administration at the world organization.

The 114-nation body was paralyzed last winter by the deadlock over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This provides that member nations who are two years in arrears in payment of assessments will lose their assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 11 other countries are in this category, but a show-down has been averted so far by a no-vote truce.

One of the major problems Goldberg faced was to find a formula for easing the U.S. position without arousing widespread criticism in the United States. Several congressional leaders openly opposed any U.S. retreat. U.S. diplomats, however, insisted that the assembly could not resume full operations unless the United States abandoned its insistence on enforcement of Article 19.

The issue has become mainly a political controversy. The Soviet Union and France contend that the peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and the Middle East U.N. force are illegal because they were levied by the assembly rather than the Security Council. The United States disagrees.

Four U. S. Navy Skyraiders from the carrier Oriskany, supported by three Skyhawks, hit the Ky Anh military barracks about 80 miles inside North Viet Nam, spokesmen reported, and the pilots said eight buildings were destroyed.

Nine A4 Skyhawks and six A1 Skyraiders from the Oriskany and the carrier Coral Sea pounded targets in North Viet Nam in a series of missions.

Elsewhere in the war:
U.S. Marines killed five Viet Cong in the Da Nang area and recovered the bodies, U.S. spokesmen said.

Vietnamese authorities claimed 36 Viet Cong were killed Saturday in a clash in An Xuyen Province, 160 miles southwest of Saigon. No U.S. military personnel took part in the operation.

Twelve hundred more Marines landed at Da Nang Sunday, following up 2,800 who landed at Chu Lai Saturday. In all, 6,400 are to come ashore in the next few days.

U.S. Marine Phantom jets from the Da Nang air base flew air patrol and cover missions over North Viet Nam for the first time Sunday, a U.S. Marine spokesman reported. Six missions of two jets each flew to within 70 miles of Hanoi, he said. Previously Marine planes had been used only against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs hit a variety of targets in North Viet Nam Sunday and damaged a ferry complex near the border with South Viet Nam, spokesmen reported.

Mart Rally In 4th Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advance slowed somewhat early this afternoon.

Trading was moderately active.

The rally was in its fourth consecutive day.

Brokers said they expected investors' interest in stocks to remain high because of record new car sales in the first 10 days of August, the best mid-July factory employment showing since 1943 and the inflationary implications of wage increases won by glass workers in a three-year contract.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up .5 at 331.4 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 236 to 891.18.

Manry Near End Of Long Journey

FALMOUTH, England (AP)—Robert Manry, an incredible sailor who crossed the Atlantic alone in a midget boat, met his wife 70 miles off England today, grinned at her and shouted a cheerful "hello."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer newsmen, 48, nudged his 13½-foot Tinkerbell toward the Cornish coast and probably will reach Falmouth Harbor, his goal, within two days.

This will mean he has sailed the smallest known boat in history 3,200 miles nonstop across the Atlantic in 79 days through gales.

Out of touch for a week, Manry was sighted this morning off Wolf Rock. A trawler carrying his wife, and two members of his newspaper, sailed out to meet him. They converged in midafternoon.

Manry was reported strong and well, dead on course in such a manner that the oldest sailors in this historic port called him a sailing marvel.

Two fishing boats had sighted him earlier 60 or 70 miles from Falmouth.

While Mrs. Manry was at sea meeting her husband for the first time in 76 days, their two children—daughter Robin, 14, and son Douglas, 11—greeted the latest news in Falmouth with shouts of joy.

Manry, 48, has been at sea 77 days. He set sail June 1 on a 3,200-mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England.

He was last sighted a week ago 265 miles west of Lands End.

Manry's wife, Virginia, returned to Newlyn, Cornwall, Sunday night after a 600-mile four-day voyage in the trawler Excellent. Mrs. Manry, 46, was disappointed at not finding the Tinkerbell but refused to ask for an official search for her husband.

Shortly after noon, Manry went aboard the Royal Navy minesweeper Brereton, which came alongside his boat, and asked for a glass of milk.

"It's the first I've had in 76 days," he said.

He chatted with officers and crew of the Brereton and signed the ship's visitors book.

At 7:15 a.m. EST the Coast Guard said the Tinkerbell was 40 miles southwest of the Lizard.

The Coast Guard said the Trawler Excellent, with Mrs. Manry aboard, planned to rendezvous with the Tinkerbell during the afternoon.

The Brereton messaged land stations that she and the Excellent probably would accompany the Tinkerbell into Falmouth.

Aboard the Brereton, Manry said he greatly looked forward to a reunion with his wife.

Noted Judge's Death Said Caused by Monoxide Fumes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Judge Lehr Fess, a widely known author, historian and parliamentarian, died at his home here early Sunday.

The death of the 73-year-old Ohio appellate court jurist was ruled suicide by Lucas County Coroner Harry Mignerey. Authorities said Fess was found in his car in the family garage and death was attributed to carbon monoxide fumes.

Class of '54 Plans Reunion

The Circleville High School Class of 1954 will hold a reunion Sunday at the summer cabin of David Hoffman on Canal Road.

A spokesman for the class announced that plans for a memorial will be made in honor of Capt. William J. Barthelmas Jr., who was killed July 25, in Viet Nam. Barthelmas was a member of the graduating class.

The event will get underway with a carry-in dinner. Each couple attending is asked to bring a meat dish and one vegetable or side-dish. It is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m.

Members of the class who are unable to attend the reunion may make donations towards the memorial by contacting Mrs. Barbara Eitel Wolford at GR 4-2698.

Hoffman's cabin, site of the reunion, is located on Canal Road and signs will be erected for those unfamiliar with the area.

feel will result from the move, it was pointed out the ancient county home was in a state of disrepair and is a fire hazard.

The upper floor of the building has for many years been closed.

ALTHOUGH at one time as many as 400 persons were housed in the building, there are now only 23.

Mrs. Muriel Ott, the superintendent of the home, since 1955, says the most people housed there during her tenure has been 36.

When it was originally built, entire families were at times housed in the building.

A school was maintained by the county to teach the children of the families there.

The home was first placed into operation in 1872.

Although the inmates are to be moved to other facilities as quickly as possible, Mrs. Ott and a portion of her staff will remain at the home until the first of the year.

THE COMMISSIONERS have no plans at present for the 124 acre tract of land on which the home is located although they indicated it may be sold.

The property in the home and the equipment needed for the operation of the farm will be sold at public auction later this year.

The commissioners, in informing Mrs. Ott of their decision to day, commended her for doing a "wonderful job under a difficult situation."

They pointed out that for several years, funds for the operation of the home were limited and the county could not afford to pay the help needed.

Mrs. Ott has been superintendent of the home since 1955 when she succeeded her husband, Floyd Ott, who died in April of that year.

Mr. Ott served as superintendent of the home from 1952 until his death.

ALTHOUGH disappointed to hear the home was to be closed, Mrs. Ott said she was not surprised.

She felt the news would create a mixed reaction among the inmates.

One man has been a resident of the ancient structure for 54 years. He was injured as a youth in a railroad accident in which he lost an arm and a leg.

The man, now blind, was kept in the children's home until he reached the age of 18, at which time he was transferred to the home.

He is now 72.

Rights Leader Has Trouble Within His Own Church

CINCINNATI (AP) — Civil rights leader Fred L. Shuttlesworth is having some trouble in his own Revelation Baptist Church, where some parishioners think he is too dictatorial.

Things came to a head with a loud altercation at the Sunday services where part of the congregation stood up to signify they opposed the pastor's policies. Some of them booed him and quiet was not restored for more than half an hour.

Both the Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth and Smith Tyler Jr., attorney for a group of dissident parishioners, said there was a disturbance but they differed in their accounts of what happened and whether or not a majority of the people present stood up.

Shuttlesworth, a Negro, came to Cincinnati from Birmingham, Ala., where he helped Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. during the bus boycott. He still goes to Alabama frequently to help the Southern Christian Leadership Conference with civil rights work.

Tyler said 200 of the more than 1,000 church members have signed a petition criticizing Shuttlesworth for his "dictatorial fashion" in dealing with deacons and trustees. He said the members want a general meeting to air their grievances.

Shuttlesworth admitted to newsmen he had opponents but said these included only a handful of people.

"There were no arrests made during this disturbance of worship because I believe that when passions cool and minds reflect, then the Word of God will prevail."

Police were called to the church during the disturbance, but did not enter it.

Martin was taken to the Aspen Valley Hospital. Although his injuries were not listed, it was reported he would recover.

All but McEachern were reported roped together as they descended over a snow field on the 14,000-foot peak in a mountain wilderness 10 miles west of Aspen.

One of the four was reported to have slipped and all four were dragged down a slope.

Dr. Robert Barnard, Aspen physician, and Alfred Braun, an experienced mountain climber, were flown to the area in a helicopter.

They found two men already dead and two others hurt, one obviously critically. He was hoisted on a stretcher to the helicopter, but the man was dead by the time the craft returned to Aspen.

Mrs. Muriel Ott, the superintendent of the home, since 1955, says the most people housed there during her tenure has been 36.

When it was originally built, entire families were at times housed in the building.

A school was maintained by the county to teach the children of the families there.

The home was first placed into operation in 1872.

Although the inmates are to be moved to other facilities as quickly as possible, Mrs. Ott and a portion of her staff will remain at the home until the first of the year.

THE COMMISSIONERS have no plans at present for the 124 acre tract of land on which the home is located although they indicated it may be sold.

The property in the home and the equipment needed for the operation of the farm will be sold at public auction later this year.

The commissioners, in informing Mrs. Ott of their decision today, commended her for doing a "wonderful job under a difficult situation."

They pointed out that for several years, funds for the operation of the home were limited and the county could not afford to pay the help needed.

Mrs. Ott has been superintendent of the home since 1955 when she succeeded her husband, Floyd Ott, who died in April of that year.

Mr. Ott served as superintendent of the home from 1952 until his death.

ALTHOUGH disappointed to hear the home was to be closed, Mrs. Ott said she was not surprised.

She felt the news would create a mixed reaction among the inmates.

One man has been a resident of the ancient structure for 54 years. He was injured as a youth in a railroad accident in which he lost an arm and a leg.

The man, now blind, was kept in the children's home until he reached the age of 18, at which time he was transferred to the home.

He is now 72.

Goldberg Slated To Unveil Policy On U.N. Voting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported ready to unveil a new U.S. policy today designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

Details of the U.S. plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

Goldberg was scheduled to outline the new policy in the assembly's 33-nation committee on peacekeeping operations. It was to be his first speech as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. He and Secretary of State Dean Rusk worked out the final draft of the plan over the weekend.

The former Supreme Court Justice has given top priority to the U.N. financial crisis since he succeeded the late Adlai E. Stevenson as spokesman for the Johnson administration at the world organization.

The 114-nation body was paralyzed all last winter by the deadlock over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This provides that member nations who are two years in arrears in payment of assessments will lose their assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 11 other countries are in this category, but a showdown has been averted so far by a no-vote truce.

One of the major problems Goldberg faced was to find a formula for easing the U.S. position without arousing widespread criticism in the United States. Several congressional leaders openly opposed any U.S. retreat. U.S. diplomats, however, insisted that the assembly could not resume full operations unless the United States abandoned its insistence on enforcement of Article 19.

The issue has become mainly a political controversy. The Soviet Union and France contend that the peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and the Middle East U.N. force are illegal because they were levied by the assembly rather than the Security Council. The United States disagrees.

Surviving is his widow, Bertha Redman Gephart.

Private services will be 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the residence with the Rev. Norman O. Williams officiating. Burial will be in Spring Lawn Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Mader Funeral Home from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday and at the residence after 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Memorial donations to the Multiple Sclerosis Fund would be appreciated by the family.

MRS. BLANCHE ARLEDGE

Mrs. Blanche Arledge, 68, Columbus, died 1 a.m. Saturday in Mercy Hospital, Columbus.

She is survived by her husband, Roy P.; two sons, Robert P., Columbus, and Kenneth, Los Angeles, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Edythe Miller, Milwaukee; and Mrs. Genevieve Stettler, Columbus; a brother, Alonzo Lagore, Circleville; 10 grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; several nieces and nephews.

Services will be 10 a.m. tomorrow at the O. R. Woodyard Funeral Home with the Rev. Herman Hollis officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. today.

MR. FLOYD ANDERSON

Mr. Floyd Anderson, 70, Route 1, Kingston, died 8:30 p.m. Friday in Chillicothe Veterans Hospital.

He was born Nov. 24, 1894, in Pike County the son of George and Hester Rose Anderson. He was a veteran of World War I. Mr. Anderson was twice married, first to Viola Bauer Anderson who preceded him in death; second to Helen Allen Anderson who survives.

Also surviving are two sons, Howard E., Route 3, Waverly; Lowell E., Mt. Sterling; one daughter, Mrs. Franklin E. (Harriett) Blagg, Columbus; five grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Lawrence Miller, Waverly; one brother, Edward, Frankfort.

Services will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Richmond Dale Baptist Church with burial in Cadwell Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Ware Funeral Home, Chillicothe, beginning 4 p.m. today, then beginning 1 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

House Is Entered

Paul Gray, 568 E. Franklin St., told Circleville Police his house was entered last night between 6 and 10:30 p.m. while he was at church.

Although the lock on the door was broken, nothing appeared to have been taken from the house.

Four U. S. Navy Skyraiders from the carrier Oriskany, supported by three Skyhawks, hit the Ky Anh military barracks about 80 miles inside North Viet Nam, spokesmen reported, and the pilots said eight buildings were destroyed.

Nine A4 Skyhawks and six A1 Skyraiders from the Oriskany and the carrier Coral Sea pounded targets in North Viet Nam in a series of missions.

Elsewhere in the war: U.S. Marines killed five Viet Cong in the Da Nang area and recovered the bodies, U.S. spokesmen said.

Vietnamese authorities claimed 36 Viet Cong were killed Saturday in a clash in An Xuyen Province, 160 miles southwest of Saigon. No U.S. military personnel took part in the operation.

Twelve hundred more Marines landed at Da Nang Sunday, following up 2,800 who landed at Chu Lai Saturday. In all, 6,400 are to come ashore in the next few days.

U.S. Marine Phantom jets from the Da Nang air base flew air patrol and cover missions over North Viet Nam for the first time Sunday, a U.S. Marine spokesman reported. Six missions of two jets each flew to within 70 miles of Hanoi, he said. Previously Marine planes had been used only against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs hit a variety of targets in North Viet Nam Sunday and damaged a ferry complex near the border with South Viet Nam, spokesmen reported.

Mart Rally In 4th Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advance slowed somewhat early this afternoon.

Trading was moderately active.

The rally was in its fourth consecutive day.

Brokers said they expected investors' interest in stocks to remain high because of record new car sales in the first 10 days of August, the best mid-July factory employment showing since 1943 and the inflationary implications of wage increases won by glass workers in a three-year contract.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up .5 at 331.4 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .2 and utilities up .2.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 236 to 891.18.

Nancy C. Happenny, 29, of 132 Park St., lacerated her left leg on the blade of an electric fan.

Lloyd Williams, 30, Route 1, caught fingers of his right hand in equipment while working at the local Du Pont plant.

Timothy Carroll, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Carroll, Route 1, Stoutsville, was bitten on the left wrist by a dog.

Nona Rutter, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutter, 319 E. Fourth St., injured the thumb of her left hand while playing at home.

Manry Near End Of Long Journey

FALMOUTH, England (AP)—Robert Manry, an incredible sailor who crossed the Atlantic alone in a midget boat, met his wife 70 miles off England today, grinned at her and shouted a cheerful "hello."

The Cleveland Plain Dealer newsman, 48, nudged his 13½-foot Tinkerbell toward the Cornish coast and probably will reach Falmouth Harbor, his goal, within two days.

This will mean he has sailed the smallest known boat in history 3,200 miles nonstop across the Atlantic in 79 days through gales.

Out of touch for a week, Manry was sighted this morning off Wolf Rock. A trawler carrying his wife, and two members of his newspaper, sailed out to meet him. They converged in midafternoon.

Manry was reported strong and well, dead on course in such a manner that the oldest sailors in this historic port called him a sailing marvel.

Two fishing boats had sighted him earlier 60 or 70 miles from Falmouth.

While Mrs. Manry was at sea meeting her husband for the first time in 76 days, their two children—daughter Robin, 14, and son Douglas, 11—greeted the latest news in Falmouth with shouts of joy.

Manry, 48, has been at sea 77 days. He set sail June 1 on a 3,200-mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England.

He was last sighted a week ago 265 miles west of Lands End.

Manry's wife, Virginia, returned to Newlyn, Cornwall, Sunday night after a 600-mile four-day voyage in the trawler Excellent. Mrs. Manry, 46, was disappointed at not finding the Tinkerbell but refused to ask

County Court Sentences 4

Four persons were sentenced Saturday morning by Judge William Ammer during a session of Common Pleas Court.

All four waived rights to a hearing before the grand jury and appeared before the court on bills of information. Three of the four were placed on probation for three years each and the fourth was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Granted probation were the following: Mrs. Betty Payne, Route 2, for receiving stolen property; Michael K. Smith, Columbus, for larceny by trick; and Floyd Lindsey Standley, Route 2, Ashville, for assault with a deadly weapon.

Receiving a sentence of 1-7 years in the state penitentiary was Joseph A. Harper, Columbus, for larceny by trick.

Laurelville Man Bound to Jury

Robert Leroy McNichols, Laurelville, was bound to the Pickaway Grand Jury under $1000 bond by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling M. Lamb today.

McNichols was charged with obtaining an automobile under false pretenses. He reportedly issued a forged check for the vehicle. He entered a plea of guilty.

The charge was filed by Patrolman William Brungs of the Circleville Police Department.

In addition, McNichols was fined $25 and costs on an old charge of speeding 45 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone. He was cited June 27, 1964.

A King in Our Time

There are few who do not admire a man who has a little spirit, and who does what he wants to simply because he feels like it.

But as time goes on, more restrictions are placed upon the free-wheeling souls of the world. Either some law says something cannot be done, or if it can, the man who would do it can't afford it.

Part of the trouble is that women have become more powerful. Ever since they got the right to vote they've been having a lot to say about what could be done. And they've tended to fix it so that men just don't give in to impulse the way they once did.

The other problem is that society has developed a tendency to frown on individual actions that deviate from what are now called "Acceptable Patterns of Behavior."

So it evolves that everybody — or almost everybody — sits around looking good, smiling when they don't always want to, behaving properly and watching their frustrations develop into excess gastric acidity.

But not Pietro Piraino of Centerbeach, N. Y., who yielded to an overpowering compulsion at an auction and bought 331 sinks, 270 toilet bowls, 24 bathtubs and 6 house radiators.

Are there any drugs for the cure of alcoholism?

Mr. R. P., Kentucky
Dear Mr. P.: There is no drug that can cure alcoholism. The families of the alcoholic are subjected to the expense of new-fangled drugs in their desire to control this disease. For alcoholism is a disease, a disease of body metabolism with many psychological overtones.

The combined efforts of psychological guidance, spiritual support and the special approach of Alcoholics Anonymous can effect good control and sometimes even permanent control of alcoholism.

One drug, Antabuse, is used with considerable success to help control alcoholism.

When this drug is taken it cuts down the desire for alcohol in a very strange way. Antabuse combines with any alcohol and makes the person violently nauseated and sick.

The alcoholic knows this and thus he avoids alcohol in fear of such a reaction. During the time the alcoholic is taking Antabuse, he can be helped more readily by those who are concentrating on his physical and psychological rehabilitation.

Antabuse can help to control, not to cure, the chronic illness of alcoholism.

Happy Birthday First Shirt

By TUGH A. MULLIGAN
(For Hal Boyle)
VINH LONG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It was the First Shirt's birthday and by popular decree the Happy Hour had been extended far into the night.

In the Army in wartime there is time for only two major holidays: Christmas and the first sergeant's birthday.

First Sgt. William Bledsoe of Chattanooga, Tenn., had reached his 47th birthday in his third war with nary a gray hair sullying the dark crewcut atop his handsome head. The boys in the MACV house — Military Assistance Command Viet Nam — in Vinh Long Province down in the delta assembled a fire team to convey him safely past that momentous milestone.

During Happy Hour, normally the cocktail hour before supper, martinis plummet from 25 cents to 10 cents and beer from 20 cents to 10 cents in the screened-in little bar on the roof of the barracks. At those prices, bonhomie was found to flow faster than the muddy Mekong slipping by in the distance.

Cpl. Tom Fusco, a big-spending airman from Brooklyn, stepped up and belted an enormous Chinese gong suspended from the ceiling just beyond the mess sergeant's latest futile homily: "Patrons will refrain from profanity." The coconut trees and mangrove swamps rang with the news that he was buying the entire house. The tab came to $2.60. Fusco shrugged it off.

A MACV compound in the delta houses a curious assortment of military personnel: sailors who daily risk their lives putting up the Viet Cong-infested canals with the RAG — River Assault Group; fly boys who go up in small planes called L19s to direct air and artillery strikes; Army advisers who live out in the "boonies" and eat roast dog and fried snake with their Vietnamese counterparts; engineers who rebuild the blown out bridges and cratered roads.

Pride of outfit, plus a tactical desire to get along with the top kick, caused each in turn to belt the gong.

The night rang with an anvil chorus of liquified salutations for the First Shirt. Well-wishers came and went, fell by the wayside and wandered off soliloquizing the big delta moon in jabbering iambs, but Sgt. Bledsoe manfully stuck to his stool. He took on enough intonations of distilled camaraderie to tell a water buffalo and yet rarely slurred a syllable in gracefully acknowledging each paean to his antiquity.

Sometime during the night it was discovered that Capt. Jack Miller of Catron, Mo., just back from a sarnpan trip through VC country, had made the list for major. The delights of double jeopardy ensued. The tocsin rang. The welkin rang. Teds rang. The top kick hardly even teetered.

Next morning the casualty list was high and ice in high demand as a poultice for wounded pates. Cheeks sagged. Eyeballs took on the color of tattered VC flags. Hands shook. A morning air-strike rattled the windows and shook the floors of the compound, but some of the survivors of the night's jubilation thought it was only the ringing inside their heads.

And yet at 7 a.m., same as always, there sat 1st Sgt. Bledsoe ramrod straight at his desk in the orderly room, fatigues neatly pressed, shoes shined like an ebony woodcarving, eyes clear and shining.

Which is why the First Shirt wears the First Shirt.

Field County, formed in 1800 and named after the "fair fields" of the area, is South-Central Country. It also holds the distinction of having more covered bridges within its boundaries than any other county in the state.

Almost 70,000 people live in Fairfield County, some 32,000 of them in Lancaster, the county seat, which is known as one of the important glass centers of Ohio. South-Central Electric makes its headquarters in Fairfield County, northwest of Lancaster at the junction of Route 188 and Coonpath Road.

Fairfield County counts 37 old covered bridges still standing. One of the best known is adjacent to Old Rock Mill northwest of Lancaster. These picturesque structures were originally built of wood, and the covering shelter was simply to protect the bridge timbers against the elements and not, as some suppose, to supply trysting places for young lovers. In 1940, the Ohio Covered Bridge Committee was formed to stimulate interest in preserving these nostalgic reminders of Ohio's past.

South-Central is proud to be a vital part of Fairfield County, interested in its civic welfare. Each year it holds its annual meeting at the Fairfield County Fairgrounds in Lancaster . . . in South-Central country.

A King in Our Time

There are few who do not admire a man who has a little spirit, and who does what he wants to simply because he feels like it.

But as time goes on, more restrictions are placed upon the free-wheeling souls of the world. Either some law says something cannot be done, or if it can, the man who would do it can't afford it.

Part of the trouble is that women have become more powerful. Ever since they got the right to vote they've been having a lot to say about what could be done. And they've tended to fix it so that men just don't give in to impulse the way they once did.

The other problem is that society has developed a tendency to frown on individual actions that deviate from what are now called "Acceptable Patterns of Behavior."

So it evolves that everybody — or almost everybody — sits around looking good, smiling when they don't always want to, behaving properly and watching their frustrations develop into excess gastric acidity.

But not Pietro Piraino of Centerbeach, N. Y., who yielded to an overpowering compulsion at an auction and bought 331 sinks, 270 toilet bowls, 24 bathtubs and 6 house radiators.

He's had an awful lot of trouble getting rid of the stuff. And he says his wife thinks he's some kind of nut. A daughter wants to change her name.

But through it all, Pietro Piraino stands as a beacon in the night for all men everywhere who have wanted to crash out of black conformity and into the light of self-expression.

Somebody ought to consider erecting a porcelain statue somewhere in recognition of his individual courage.

They assemble so much ponderous machinery to measure over a protracted period of time what a good reporter can get by judicious interviewing within a couple of weeks that they are invariably on the slow freight. I remember working on the editing and illustrating end of a government study of the comparative strength of Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia on the eastern front in 1942. For six months a group of professors, many of them quite able, made like beavers to correlate every last scrap of information they could get. Much of it came from the daily newspapers. By the time the job was completed the German Army had made a decisive move — and the work had to be done all over again. The cream of the ironic jest is that the U. survey even if it had reached his desk in time to be of any use.

All of which raises a question: why did the Pentagon feel it needed a "Project Camelot" to tell it about Latin American revolutionary potentialities if its own military attaches are on the ball? No possible "Project Camelot" for pre-World War II Nazi Germany could ever have matched the material which our military attaché in Berlin, Colonel Truman Smith, gathered in the course of his daily duties. A good military or naval attaché is supposed to be on top of academic researchers to tap. If a "Project Camelot" was indeed needed for Latin America, then we must assume that our military, naval and air force attaches in Chile, Argentina and the other countries are spending all too much time on the cocktail circuit.

Moreover, if a "Project Camelot" was justified, what are we to say of the Central Intelligence Agency and the area desks of the State Department itself? If the CIA files aren't filled to the gunwales with relevant stuff about Latin American revolutionary potentialities, then why are we spending billions to keep CIA personnel employed? And why do we have a State Department? Or are we to believe that the CIA and the State Department have secrets that are too precious to divulge to the Pentagon on request?

Of course, you might say that our military attaches and CIA operatives and diplomats are not social scientists. As is well known, "social science research" consists of surveying the Indians of the Pruvian altiplano and recording their grunts as they are asked leading questions. The researcher invariably finds that the Indians don't live very well, and they might very well be predisposed to listen to Castroites. Which is the sort of thing that anyone can glean from the reports put out each month by Paul D. Bethel, the able editor of the bulletin published by the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba. The bulletin can be had for free.

It doesn't take a ponderous "social survey" to tell us that the military regime of Colonel Enrique Peralta Azurdia in Guatemala is vulnerable, or that Soviet and Cuban "trawlers" are smuggling Havana-trained guerrillas into Central and South America via Islas Mujeres off the Mexican coast,

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the climate of the mind the hot sun of example can dry up the springs of orderly conduct.

Psychiatrists in Los Angeles had explanations for the Negro riots there: hate, frustration, poverty, resentment, hopelessness, heat, humidity. All were probably factors, and may in part explain the rioting in Chicago.

In Los Angeles the trouble began after a white policeman arrested a Negro he suspected of drunken driving; in Chicago after a Negro woman was killed by the swerving end of an underrunning fire engine. In both places criminals may have begun the trouble by using these episodes as an excuse to hit back the law since police are their natural enemies and they have no sense of the responsibility of citizenship.

Once violence began it may have opened the door for the stored-up frustrations of others who would not ordinarily defy the police but then, in Los Angeles at least, became criminals themselves with burning and looting.

But why did the defiance of law break out on such a massive scale? The repeated examples of defiance which they have seen and read about in recent years may have been a force influencing their actions.

Over those years there has been increasing defiance or testing of the orderly process, not only through massive demonstrations of sit-ins and lie-downs, but even by some Southern state governments against the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Both the demonstrators and the state governments decided for themselves whether a law or a court order was just or unjust. No doubt such defiance in the minds of many people in this country had the effect of downgrading respect for law.

Perhaps more often than not it has not been the ignorant or downtrodden who did the demonstrating and, defying police orders to move on, sat down or fell limp, waiting to be carried off to jail.

In the past week young demonstrators against the war in Viet Nam were arrested here on the Capitol grounds and blocking the entrance to the White House.

As police hauled them away they shouted "Freedom, freedom, freedom." Los Angeles rioters shouted "Burn, baby, burn."

Last Monday the president of the American Bar Association, Lewis F. Powell of Richmond, Va., was applauded by 3,000 lawyers in the ABA convention in Miami when he suggested some sit-in demonstrations could create disrespect for law.

"An orderly society," he said, "cannot exist if every man may determine which laws he will obey, and if techniques of coercion supplant due process."

"The court and legislative halls, rather than the streets, must be the place where differences are reconciled and individual rights ultimately protected."

He also criticized the "criminal conduct of the small and defiant minority in the South which still uses violence and intimidation to frustrate the legal rights of Negro citizens."

President Johnson Sunday, condemning the violence in Los Angeles but at the same time saying "we must also strike at the unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows," issued this statement:

"There is no greater wrong in our democracy than violent, willful disregard of law. If men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and enabled them to enlarge those lives."

ASC County Convention Election Due Wednesday

A Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will be elected Wednesday by farmer - chosen delegates.

The election will be conducted during a County Convention at Boyer's Restaurant, starting at 9 a. m. According to Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the ASC County Committee, the session will be open to the public and persons interested in observing the voting procedure may attend.

However, only farmer - delegates to the convention may participate in the election process. The election will be by secret ballot and plurality vote.

ASC county and community committeemen are in charge of the local administration of such farm - action programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the National Wool program, commodity price-support loans and storage facility loans.

A QUALIFIED candidate for service on the ASC county committee, Mowery explained, is one who is a resident eligible to vote in one of the community elections in the county, and who meets other eligibility requirements. Eligibility to vote or hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed or national origin.

Other details as to qualifications of candidates are available in the ASCS County Office.

Any questions on eligibility to hold office as an ASC county committeeman will be decided by the incumbent county committee subject to appeal to the state committee. The convention would proceed, however, on the basis of the county committee decision.

Mowery urged all ASC farmer - delegates to attend the County Convention. These farmers were automatically chosen as convention delegates when they were elected recently by their farmer-neighbors to serve as ASC community committeemen for the coming year.

Important changes have been made in election details, which make this year's convention more important than ever.

These changes are designed to give more continuity and stability to operating policies in ASCS County offices and to improve administration of farm programs by local committees. They are part of a continuing process to make more effective use of farmer - committees in local administration of programs, to increase their importance and status, and to attract outstanding farm leaders to serve in these positions.

ONE CHANGE in the convention elections — effective this year — is that all regular members of the various community committees within the county (instead of the chairmen only) will elect the county committeemen at the convention.

It Wasn't 'Rot-Gut'

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — "Why did you walk off from the workhouse and get drunk?" City Judge Riley Graham asked a defendant.

"You see," the unshaven man replied, "I've got ulcers and that cornbread out at the workhouse (prison farm) had me so sick I couldn't hold my head up."

"Seems to me that rot - gut whisky would hurt your ulcers more than cornbread would," the judge commented.

"It wasn't rot-gut," the man replied. "It was wine."

Looking at Ohio

Early Tribes Sought Flint In Newark-Zanesville Area

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of summer tours featuring state memorials maintained by the Ohio Historical Society prepared for readers of The Herald by the Columbus Auto Club.

A recent vote of the legislature with approval by Governor Rhodes to designate flint as Ohio's official gem stone makes Flint Ridge State Memorial an appropriate place to include in this suggested tour. The 515-acre memorial in Licking County is open daily.

Other state memorials in the area are the Newark Earthworks, Hanby House in Westerville and the Ohio State Museum on the Ohio State University campus in Columbus.

Centuries ago Indians came from all parts of the midwest to a range of hills about 10 miles in length between the present cities of Newark and Zanesville. Here they found deposits of a material greatly needed in their fight for life — flint.

Great ingenuity was required on the part of the Indians, first to get large chunks of the metal from pits increasingly deep, then to fashion the flint into arrow and spear points, drills, knives and other instruments.

The Newark Earthworks of prehistoric Indian construction on the west side of the city of Newark originally covered an area of two square miles. The preserve has now dwindled to less than two hundred acres.

The geometric enclosures found here were used by Hopewell Indians for social, religious and burial purposes. The earthworks also probably were used as residences by tribal leaders.

The Benjamin R. Hanby House at Westerville is the only state memorial honoring a musician. Hanby's best-known compositions were "Darling Nelly Gray" and "Up on the House Top." The family had come from Circleville to Westerville, where the father, Rev. William Hanby, was one of the founders of Otterbein College.

The home where the Hanbys lived from 1853 to 1870 has been restored and moved to a site opposite the college.

The Ohio State Museum in Columbus, worthy of a full day's visit, has widely varied displays of the Northwest Territory.

No two snowflakes are exactly alike. Flakes can be as simple or fantastically complex. Many have classic six-sided symmetry, but they can assume the shape of prisms, branched stars, needles, pyramids, dumbbells, or strange forms that develop when many crystals cluster together.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Aug. 16, the 228th day of 1965. There are 137 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1923, the Carnegie Steel Co. instituted the eight-hour working day. By the end of the year most large steel firms followed suit—the last of the large industries holding out against the shorter day.

On this date: In 1777, militia led by John Stark defeated British forces at Bennington, Vt. The victory set the stage for the crushing of Gen. John Burgoyne's attempt to end the revolution.

In 1812, Gen. William Hull surrendered Detroit to the British and Indians. Hull later was sentenced to be shot, but won a presidential reprieve.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the climate of the mind the hot sun of example can dry up the springs of orderly conduct.

Psychiatrists in Los Angeles had explanations for the Negro riots there: hate, frustration, poverty, resentment, hopelessness, heat, humidity. All were probably factors, and may in part explain the rioting in Chicago.

In Los Angeles the trouble began after a white policeman arrested a Negro he suspected of drunken driving; in Chicago after a Negro woman was killed by the swerving end of an undermanned fire engine.

In both places criminals may have begun the trouble by using these episodes as an excuse to hit back the law since police are their natural enemies and they have no sense of the responsibility of citizenship.

Once violence began it may have opened the door for the stored-up frustrations of others who would not ordinarily defy the police but then, in Los Angeles at least, became criminals themselves with burning and looting.

But why did the defiance of law break out on such a massive scale? The repeated examples of defiance which they have seen and read about in recent years may have been a force influencing their actions.

Over those years there has been increasing defiance or testing of the orderly process, not only through massive demonstrations of sit-ins and lie-downs, but even by some Southern state governments against the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Both the demonstrators and the state governments decided for themselves whether a law or a court order was just or unjust. No doubt such defiance in the minds of many people in this country had the effect of downgrading respect for law.

Perhaps more often than not it has not been the ignorant or downtrodden who did the demonstrating and, defying police orders to move on, sat down or fell limp, waiting to be carried off to jail.

In the past week young demonstrators against the war in Viet Nam were arrested here on the Capitol grounds and blocking the entrance to the White House.

As police hauled them away they shouted "Freedom, freedom, freedom." Los Angeles rioters shouted "Burn, baby, burn."

Last Monday the president of the American Bar Association, Lewis F. Powell of Richmond, Va., was applauded by 3,000 lawyers in the ABA convention in Miami when he suggested some sit-in demonstrations could create disrespect for law.

"An orderly society," he said, "cannot exist if every man may determine which laws he will obey, and if techniques of coercion supplant due process."

"The court and legislative halls, rather than the streets, must be the place where differences are reconciled and individual rights ultimately protected."

He also criticized the "criminal conduct of the small and defiant minority in the South which still uses violence and intimidation to frustrate the legal rights of Negro citizens."

President Johnson Sunday, condemning the violence in Los Angeles but at the same time saying "we must also strike at the unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows," issued this statement:

"There is no greater wrong in our democracy than violent, willful disregard of law. If men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and enabled them to enlarge those lives."

ASC County Convention Election Due Wednesday

A Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee will be elected Wednesday by farmer - chosen delegates.

The election will be conducted during a County Convention at Boyer's Restaurant, starting at 9 a. m. According to Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the ASC County Committee, the session will be open to the public and persons interested in observing the voting procedure may attend.

However, only farmer - delegates to the convention may participate in the election process. The election will be by secret ballot and plurality vote.

ASC county and community committeemen are in charge of the local administration of such farm - action programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the National Wool program, commodity price-support loans and storage facility loans.

A QUALIFIED candidate for service on the ASC county committee, Mowery explained, is one who is a resident eligible to vote in one of the community elections in the county, and who meets other eligibility requirements. Eligibility to vote or hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, creed or national origin.

Other details as to qualifications of candidates are available in the ASCS County Office.

Any questions on eligibility to hold office as an ASC county committeeman will be decided by the incumbent county committee subject to appeal to the state committee. The convention would proceed, however, on the basis of the county committee decision.

Mowery urged all ASC farmer - delegates to attend the County Convention. These farmers were automatically chosen as convention delegates when they were elected recently by their farmer-neighbors to serve as ASC community committeemen for the coming year.

Important changes have been made in election details, which make this year's convention more important than ever.

These changes are designed to give more continuity and stability to operating policies in ASCS County offices and to improve administration of farm programs by local committees. They are part of a continuing process to make more effective use of farmer - committees in local administration of programs, to increase their importance and status, and to attract outstanding farm leaders to serve in these positions.

ONE CHANGE in the convention elections — effective this year — is that all regular members of the various community committees within the county (instead of the chairmen only) will elect the county committeemen at the convention.

It Wasn't 'Rot-Gut'

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — "Why did you walk off from the workhouse and get drunk?" City Judge Riley Graham asked a defendant.

"You see," the unshaven man replied, "I've got ulcers and that cornbread out at the workhouse (prison farm) had me so sick I couldn't hold my head up."

"Seems to me that rot - gut whisky would hurt your ulcers more than cornbread would," the judge commented.

"It wasn't rot-gut," the man replied. "It was wine."

Looking at Ohio

Early Tribes Sought Flint In Newark-Zanesville Area

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a series of summer tours featuring state memorials maintained by the Ohio Historical Society prepared for readers of The Herald by the Columbus Auto Club.

A recent vote of the legislature with approval by Governor Rhodes to designate flint as Ohio's official gem stone makes Flint Ridge State Memorial an appropriate place to include in this suggested tour. The 515-acre memorial in Licking County is open daily.

Other state memorials in the area are the Newark Earthworks, Hanby House in Westerville, and the Ohio State Museum on the Ohio State University campus in Columbus.

Centuries ago Indians came from all parts of the midwest to a range of hills about 10 miles in length between the present cities of Newark and Zanesville. Here they found deposits of a material greatly needed in their fight for life — flint.

Great ingenuity was required on the part of the Indians, first to get large chunks of the metal from pits increasingly deep, then to fashion the flint into arrow and spear points, drills, knives and other instruments.

The Newark Earthworks of prehistoric Indian construction on the west side of the city of Newark originally covered an area of two square miles. The preserve has now dwindled to less than two hundred acres.

The geometric enclosures found here were used by Hopewell Indians for social, religious and burial purposes. The earthworks also probably were used as residences by tribal leaders.

The Benjamin R. Hanby House at Westerville is the only state memorial honoring a musician. Hanby's best-known compositions were "Darling Nelly Gray" and "Up on the House Top." The family had come from Circleville to Westerville, where the father, Rev. William Hanby, was one of the founders of Otterbein College.

The home where the Hanbys lived from 1853 to 1870 has been restored and moved to a site opposite the college.

The Ohio State Museum in Columbus, worthy of a full day's visit, has widely varied displays of the Northwest Territory.

No two snowflakes are exactly alike. Flakes can be austere simple or fantastically complex. Many have classic six-sided symmetry, but they can assume the shape of prisms, branched stars, needles, pyramids, dumbbells, or strange forms that develop when many crystals cluster together.

Dear Abby: Satisfied Now?

DEAR ABBY: My problem is YOU! My husband is an Avid Dear Abby fan and every time he reads a letter in your column from a woman complaining about her husband because he's fat, or stingy, looks at other women or kids around with waitresses, he accuses me of writing the letter. It usually ends up in a big fight. So, Abby, in the future will you please use the writer's name or initials or say where the letter comes from? I don't care how you label it as long as he knows it didn't come from—

RUBY

DEAR RUBY: Now, you've done it! There must be no less than 5,000 "Rubys" for whom this letter was NOT intended. But in my effort to clear YOU, I have inadvertently implicated them. Tell your hubby that if the shoe fits to wear it.

DEAR ABBY: It's fishing season again and I want to know how we can keep fishermen out of our yard. We live on the banks of a creek, and for two years we've had to put up with men, women, children and dogs running over our property from 4 a.m. until 8 p.m. There are no signs to indicate that this is a fishing resort, but everyone seems to think it is because the stream is public.

There are fishing resorts a little farther down the road with parking space and picnic grounds. Why can't they go there? People come right up to our porch and holler under our widows. If I have clothes on the line, they walk under them. They get their fish lines caught in our radio aerial and even use our ladder to climb up and untangle them.

Some ask if they can park in our driveway. And those who do not ask, park there anyway and block our one-way road so we can't get in or out. We don't own this place, we only rent, so why should WE have to put up NO TRESPASSING signs? Any suggestions?

IDANHA, ORE.

DEAR IDANHA: I would demand that my landlord either put up a fence around the place, or post NO TRESPASSING signs and see that they are obeyed. If you put in another fishing season such as the last two, you should join the poor suckers in your creek.

DEAR ABBY: My in-laws make a habit of either writing or calling to say they are coming to visit us for the week-end, and they never show up. They don't even bother to let us know they aren't coming. I prepare extra food and wait for hours. I am getting tired of this. Have you any suggestions that won't cause trouble between my

Dear Abby: Satisfied Now?

DEAR ABBY: My problem is YOU! My husband is an Avid Dear Abby fan and every time he reads a letter in your column from a woman complaining about her husband because he's fat, or stingy, looks at other women or kids around with waitresses, he accuses me of writing the letter. It usually ends up in a big fight. So, Abby, in the future will you please use the writer's name or initials or say where the letter comes from? I don't care how you label it as long as he knows it didn't come from—

RUBY
DEAR RUBY: Now, you've done it! There must be no less than 5,000 "Rubys" for whom this letter was NOT intended. But in my effort to clear YOU, I have inadvertently implicated them. Tell your hubby that if the shoe fits to wear it.

DEAR ABBY: It's fishing season again and I want to know how we can keep fishermen out of our yard. We live on the banks of a creek, and for two years we've had to put up with men, women, children and dogs running over our property from 4 a.m. until 8 p.m. There are no signs to indicate that this is a fishing resort, but everyone seems to think it is because the stream is public.

There are fishing resorts a little farther down the road with parking space and picnic grounds. Why can't they go there? People come right up to our porch and holler under our widows. If I have clothes on the line, they walk under them. They get their fish lines caught in our radio aerial and even use our ladder to climb up and untangle them.

Some ask if they can park in our driveway. And those who do not ask, park there anyway and block our one-way road so we can't get in or out. We don't own this place, we only rent, so why should we have to put up NO TRESPASSING signs? Any suggestions?

IDANHA, ORE.
DEAR IDANHA: I would demand that my landlord either put up a fence around the place, or post NO TRESPASSING signs and see that they are obeyed. If you put in another fishing season such as the last two, you should join the poor suckers in your creek.

DEAR ABBY: My in-laws make a habit of either writing or calling to say they are coming to visit us for the week-end, and they never show up. They don't even bother to let us know they aren't coming. I prepare extra food and wait for hours. I am getting tired of this. Have you any suggestions that won't cause trouble between my husband and me?

ANNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: The solution is obvious. When they notify you that they are coming, assume they aren't and make no preparations.

DEAR ABBY: In your column there was a letter from a woman whose daughter had a nervous breakdown 18 years ago. The girl is still committed in an institution, but comes home occasionally for brief visits. In light of these circumstances, the mother said, "Some people don't know what trouble is."

May I offer this story to make a point?

A man complained to the Lord. "Lord," he said, "my cross in life is too heavy for me to bear." To which the Lord replied, "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll put all of man's crosses in one container, and you may choose the one you want." The man agreed and then proceeded to lift one cross after another. Finally, he came upon one cross that was much lighter than the rest, so he said, "Lord, this is the one I'll take." The Lord replied, "You may have it. It's your very own cross."

I shall not elaborate on MY cross, Abby. But I am certain that the woman who wrote to you would not care to trade places with me.

Style Show Slated By Lutheran Women

The Women's Auxiliary of Southeast Area Lutheran Welfare will sponsor a style show 1:15 p.m. Aug. 25 at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, New Lexington.

Items they have made will be modeled and displayed including school clothes which will be given to less fortunate children. Those wishing additional information on what to sew or how to display the clothing may write Mrs. Oscar Darling, 355 King St., Lancaster, or phone 3-1309.

The final meeting of the Women's Auxiliary this year will be held Nov. 3 at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Somerset.

Garden Club Group Plans Meet, Picnic

The Circleville Garden Club will meet for a cooperative picnic 6:45 p.m. Thursday in the home of Floyd Bartley, Route 4.

Mrs. Charles Hildreth, Donald McBeth and Mrs. Floyd Drake will assist.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Calvary EUB Church

Miss Joy Delayne Smith and Mr. Donald Lee Fausnaugh exchanged wedding vows 2:30 p.m. Aug. 1 in the Calvary EUB Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Smith, 138 Pleasant St. Mr. Fausnaugh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fausnaugh, 339½ Watt St.

The Rev. Gerald Niswender performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of white flowers and candelabra.

Mrs. Earl Millrons presented a half hour program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of lace over taffeta. A coronet crown trimmed with pearls held her full length veil of silk illusion and she carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white carnations and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Sharon Peters was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and her flowers were white carnations.

Mr. Mancel Hurlbut III served as best man. Ushers were Mr. James Peters, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Rusty Fausnaugh, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece beige suit. The bridegroom's mother wore a tan two piece suit with brown accessories. They both wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was held at the church. The bride's table was highlighted with a four tiered wedding cake. Hostesses were Miss Judy Fausnaugh and Miss Beverly Boltenhouse. Miss Shirley Francis presided at the guest register.

The bride is a receptionist in the office of Dr. Manuel Sangui.

Mr. Fausnaugh is employed with the Illinois Box Co.

The couple will reside at 438 E. Main St.

Pickaway Grange Report

POMONA GRANGE

With Worthy Master Dorsey Bumgarner presiding, the summer session of Pomona Grange was held Friday at the Grange and 4-H Building.

A report by John Dowler, Pomona building fund treasurer, showed that the multiple endeavors at the County Fair had nicely decreased the debt on the building which began March 1962.

Harold Furniss, Youth Chairman, reviewed the several worthwhile projects underway.

Plans were made for officers to cooperate with 5th. Degree work at the Fall Pomona Session.

Mrs. Ralph Dunkel guided the recognition of Pomona members in Monrovia Garden Club who cooperated with the floral beautification project at the Grange entrance.

The Home Economics reports and announcements were given by Mrs. John Dowler. The "eyes-for-the-needy" project has received generous attention. A 22 pound box of requested items was sent to India. Members from subordinate granges are planning to make gift items for the Veteran's Hospital Gift Shop.

The winning subordinate entries in the annual home economics contest were on display for further judging.

The winners for baking (cookies) were: 1st — Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie; 2nd — Mrs. Helen Schleich; 3rd — Mrs. Orwin Birchwell; 4th — Weta Mae Leist.

The first place Junior baking entry was by Karen Spangler. For the sewing contest first place went to Mrs. A. J. Dunkel, second to Beverly McKenzie, third to Mrs. Leora Sayre, and fourth to Eva Beach. The three first place members will compete in the State Contest in October.

Resolutions of respect for Ethel Brobst were adopted as prepared and presented by Wayne Luckhart, Harry Speakman, and A. J. Dunkel.

Walter Berger, a non resident member of Scioto Valley Grange, told of recent attendance at a Gideons International Meeting, Washington, D.C.

The program as arranged by the worthy lecturer, Mrs. Sayre, was a special recognition of the Subordinate Worthy Lecturers. Each responded by introducing participants from their grange.

Mrs. S. E. Beers, Scioto Grange, presented Mrs. Birchwell who responded with a piano solo "Deep Purple" and a self-accompanied vocal solo, "Valley High."

Roger Bowers, Nebraska Grange, recognized the second place winners in the annual 4-H Talent Contest — Kathy Dunkel and Cheryl Hines. They presented a very dramatic "Mary Poppins" number.

Mrs. Lawrence Hoover, Scioto Valley, presented Mr. Hoover who gave two readings: "How To Tell a Man From A Woman" and "Reasons to Worry". As arranged by Mrs. McKenzie, Logan Elm Grange, Hoyt Timmons gave a number of surprising "Tail Lights."

For Star Grange, Mrs. Clyde Michel included "Sweet Bye and Bye" a piano solo by Patricia Schleich, and the writing of a "Letter to Minnie Pearl" by Mrs. Herman Porter. Mrs. Russell Miller, Salt Creek Valley Grange, prefaced her response by a challenging verse. This was followed by "El Capitan", a piano duet by Lynn and Vicki Fraumfelter. Mrs. Walton Spangler, Washington Grange, presented Carol Spangler who played "Gypsy Campfire."

The concluding social hour was prepared and presented by Salt Creek Valley members.

Star Grange will be hosts for the fall meeting in November.

Rainfall will average near a half inch as scattered thundershowers Wednesday and Thursday and again Saturday night.

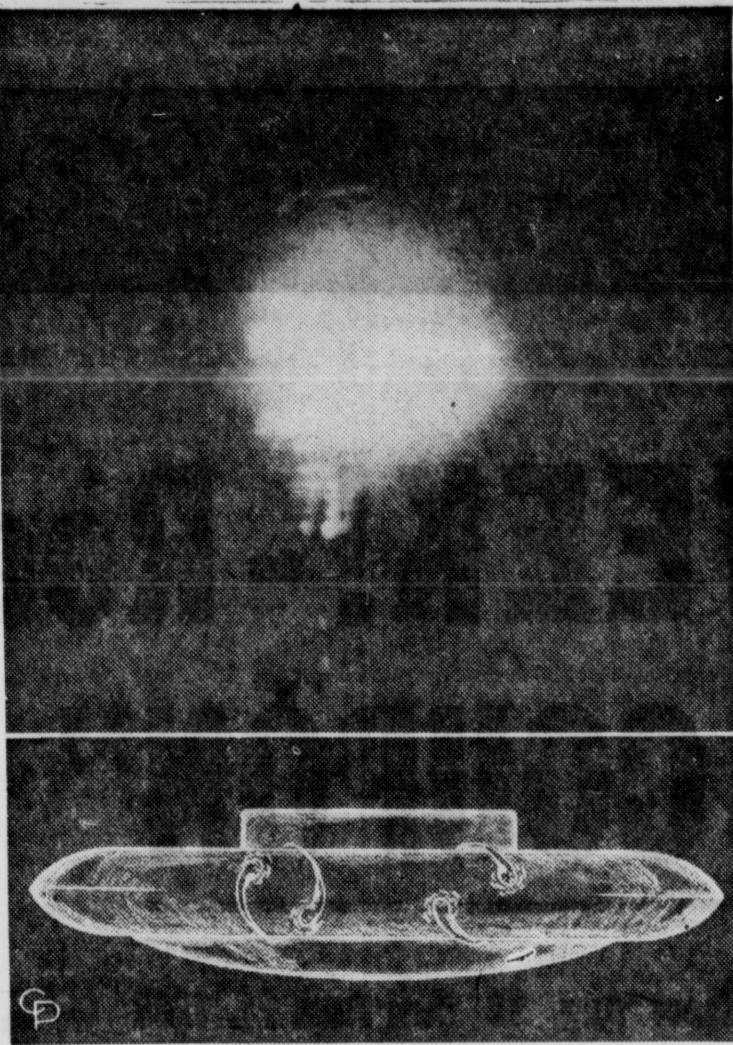

Parents Forget Son Was at Game, Too

CLEVELAND (AP) — After the baseball game was ended in Municipal Stadium and most of the 41,029 fans had gone home, police found one person wandering around the vast stadium Sunday night. It was a 6-year-old boy who had become separated from his parents.

Parents of the boy, Michael C. Twilley of Erie, Pa., had returned home without him, police said.

Police housed Michael in the detention home temporarily. Meanwhile, the parents, who had driven home, telephoned to ask about the boy.

Detective Walter Aufmuth said the parents were coming to pick up the boy.

Republicans Set Sights On 100 Demo Districts

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans, sharpening their weapons for the 1966 congressional campaign, are preparing "in-depth studies" of the home districts of 100 Democrats they think they have the best chance of defeating.

These will help plan strategy for what many Republicans regard as a crucial political battle to start a comeback from the 1964 defeat. That not only denied Republicans the presidency but reduced their numbers in Congress to the lowest level since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.

In planning wider use of polls, the Republicans are, in effect, taking a leaf from the book of applied politics used by recent successful Democratic candidates. Both President Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy used polls extensively. Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the GOP Congressional Committee, explained in an interview the GOP hopes to find all it can about each of the target districts — "what the basic issues are, what the people are thinking, how a candidate is running."

He figures this may require two surveys of each district. To learn more about this modern political weapon, the Republicans already have conducted some shakedown cruises.

Wilson said they had had sample polls conducted in five districts. He wouldn't identify the districts but said they were in California, Iowa, New York, South Carolina and in a Midwestern state.

In some cases, Wilson said, the Republicans tried different polling companies on the same district to compare their results, and "we were surprised how close their figures were."

Not all 100 Democratic target districts have been picked because of uncertainties arising from reapportionment in some states, Wilson said. But he hopes to get the operation in high gear by next spring.

Bankers' Language Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE — A hubbub is developing over the international money supply. Is this a problem involving only monetary eggheads? In the following, first in a series of five articles on the world's money supply, Sam Dawson, AP Business News Analyst, gives an ABC of terms you'll be seeing more of.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people see a drought ahead for the international money supply. And they say this could end up being about as bad for you as the drying up of water reservoirs.

Others see the world's complicated monetary system more in danger of being flooded — and with new inflationary devices that could swell your already high cost of living and perhaps scuttle your family budget.

At stake is not only how much money and credit the world needs but how it should be divided between the haves and the have-nots. Who supplies the funds and who gets them can affect U.S. prosperity and the purchasing power of your take-home pay.

Here is the meaning of the terms being bandied about by international bankers and national treasurers:

Q. Just what is "international liquidity" that could be the chief bone of contention at next month's gathering in Washington of the world's top financial experts?

A. It is the sum of all funds and credits on which central banks and governments can lay their hands to meet their balance of payments deficits.

Q. And what is a balance of payments deficit — or surplus?

A. Any nation's balance of payments is the difference between: 1. The amount of its money that is paid to foreigners for imports, military expenses abroad, tourist travel, government loans and grants, private investment or loans in other lands; and 2. The amount of money that comes back in payment for a nation's exports, profits on overseas investments, tourist travel from abroad, interest on its government and private loans. When more money goes out than returns there's a deficit. When more comes back than is sent abroad there's a surplus.

Q. When this country runs a deficit — as it has in every year since 1949 except 1957 — how does it settle up?

A. It can dip into its official reserves, borrow from standby funds or induce foreigners to hold onto their surplus of dollars as being good as gold.

Q. What are official reserves?

A. Gold and foreign currencies held by central banks or governments. Since World War II the U.S. dollar has been the most prized and widely held currency. The British pound sterling is next, especially among the Commonwealth nations. But any country's currency may be held, and often is, for settlement of payments in the normal patterns of trade.

Q. What are standby funds?

A. Since World War II the major source has been the International Monetary Fund. There are also a variety of international credit forms that central banks can use. A recent one is the "Club of 10" — pooling of financial resources of the 10 leading monetary countries to aid any member that gets into too deep water as Britain has of late. All such borrowing must be repaid in time, hopefully when surpluses replace deficits.

Blast Cause Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today were still investigating the cause of a mysterious Saturday night explosion that left an unidentified man dead.

The blast, followed by a fire, leveled a 12 x 16 foot snack bar and office at a golfing driving range near here. The charred body of a man was found in the debris.

Pilot Is Critical

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—James Michaels, 26, of Wheeling, W. Va., was listed in critical condition in a Wheeling hospital Sunday night as a result of a plane crash.

Michaels, piloting a Piper trainer Sunday, was practicing takeoffs and landings at Alderman Airport here when his plane crashed on the east end of the runway. The craft was demolished.

HINES
EXTERMINATING
CO.
Circleville — Our
22nd Year in Business
Call GR 4-4594

Q. How big are these reserves and standby funds?

A. Members of the IMF have a total of about $65 billion of official reserves and their credit sources total around $23 billion.

Q. Do U.S. official gold and currency reserves and standby funds finance its international trade?

A. No. Private corporations, importers and exporters, commercial banks and other lenders do that. If the outflow of dollars were in balance with the return flow, America's international trade and foreign investments could rise to any level without affecting its reserves of gold and foreign currencies.

Q. How are day-to-day deficits or surpluses settled?

A. Normally by private corporations and banks out of their own holdings of foreign currencies and credits. It's only when a deficit is persistent and huge (as in the United States until lately and as in Britain today) that the central monetary authorities must sell foreign exchange or gold or seek credits.

Q. How does the balance of trade differ from the balance of payments?

A. The balance of trade is the relation of exports to imports. The United States sells more abroad than it buys and has a balance of trade surplus. It's all the other forms of payments outlined above that have turned the favorable U.S. balance of trade into a deficit in the balance of payments.

NEXT: Why is the international money supply a problem now?

Bankers' Language Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE — A hubbub is developing over the international money supply. Is this a problem involving only monetary eggheads? In the following, first in a series of five articles on the world's money supply, Sam Dawson, AP Business News Analyst, gives an ABC of terms you'll be seeing more of, ten.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people see a drought ahead for the international money supply. And they say this could end up being about as bad for you as the drying up of water reservoirs.

Others see the world's complicated monetary system more in danger of being flooded — and with new inflationary devices that could swell your already high cost of living and perhaps scuttle your family budget.

At stake is not only how much money and credit the world needs but how it should be divided between the haves and the have-nots. Who supplies the funds and who gets them can affect U.S. prosperity and the purchasing power of your take-home pay.

Here is the meaning of the terms being bandied about by international bankers and national treasurers:

Q. Just what is "international liquidity" that could be the chief bone of contention at next month's gathering in Washington of the world's top financial experts?

A. It is the sum of all funds and credits on which central banks and governments can lay their hands to meet their balance of payments deficits.

Q. And what is a balance of payments deficit — or surplus?

A. Any nation's balance of payments is the difference between: 1. The amount of its money that is paid to foreigners for imports, military expenses abroad, tourist travel, government loans and grants, private investment or loans in other lands; and 2. The amount of money that comes back in payment for a nation's exports, profits on overseas investments, tourist travel from abroad, interest on its government and private loans. When more money goes out than returns there's a deficit. When more comes back than is sent abroad there's a surplus.

Q. When this country runs a deficit — as it has in every year since 1949 except 1957 — how does it settle up?

A. It can dip into its official reserves, borrow from standby funds or induce foreigners to hold onto their surplus of dollars as being good as gold.

Q. What are official reserves?

A. Gold and foreign currencies held by central banks or governments. Since World War II the U.S. dollar has been the most prized and widely held currency. The British pound sterling is next, especially among the Commonwealth nations. But any country's currency may be held, and often is, for settlement of payments in the normal patterns of trade.

Q. What are standby funds?

A. Since World War II the major source has been the International Monetary Fund. There are also a variety of international credit forms that central banks can use. A recent one is the "Club of 10" — pooling of financial resources of the 10 leading monetary countries to aid any member that gets into too deep water as Britain has of late. All such borrowing must be repaid in time, hopefully when surpluses replace deficits.

Blast Cause Sought
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today were still investigating the cause of a mysterious Saturday night explosion that left an unidentified man dead.

The blast, followed by a fire, leveled a 12 x 16 foot snack bar and office at a golfing driving range near here. The charred body of a man was found in the debris.

Pilot Is Critical
ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—James Michaels, 26, of Wheeling, W. Va., was listed in critical condition in a Wheeling hospital Sunday night as a result of a plane crash.

Michaels, piloting a Piper trainer Sunday, was practicing takeoffs and landings at Alderman Airport here when his plane crashed on the east end of the runway. The craft was demolished.

Tebbetts Has Ouija Board Working Overtime for Him

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Birdie Tebbetts has his Ouija board working overtime so you can understand if sometimes the results are a bit slow.
Take Sunday for example. The American League-leading Minnesota Twins had defeated Tebbetts' Cleveland Indians 4-3 in the first game of a double-header and led 3-1 in the ninth inning of the nightcap.
With two out, Tebbetts was frantically looking for a way to rescue his club from a double defeat. Larry Brown singled, giving Tebbetts and his Ouija some working room. When pinch hitter Max Alvis walloped a home run, tying the score, Tebbetts and Ouija were back in the fight.
Jerry Kindall's 11th-inning homer put Birdie out on a limb again as the Indians came to bat in the bottom of the 11th. But Chicago Salmon singled and Brown doubled on Bill Pleis' first two pitches.
Salmon scored the tying run and Brown moved to third when Pleis balked pitching to Duke Sims. The first pitch to Sims was a ball when Tebbetts started getting urgent messages from his little helper.
Suddenly, there was Leon Wagner with a bat in his hands, taking over for Sims with the one ball count.
Two pitches later Wagner's 22nd home run had given Cleveland a 6-4 victory and put Minnesota in shock.
Detroit joined Cleveland in second place by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 9-2 and 9-5.
Elsewhere in the American League, New York split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning the nightcap 7-3 after dropping the opener 4-1. Chicago topped Boston 7-4 and Washington whipped Baltimore 4-2.
In the National League, Milwaukee moved within 1½ games of League-leading Los Angeles by nipping Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings while the Dodgers were bowing to Pittsburgh 4-2. San Francisco outlasted Philadelphia 15-9. St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.
Detroit scored six runs in the first inning of the opener and coasted behind Joe Sparma, 9-5. The Tigers sent 10 men to the plate with Norm Cash's homer and Willie Horton's double the big blows.
In the nightcap, Don Demeter, Ray Oyler and Gates Brown had three hits apiece and Demeter and Oyler each drove in two runs.
Rookie Jim (Catfish) Hunter pitched a four-hitter beating the Yankees in the opener.
Steven Hamilton pitched four innings of one-hit relief as the Yankees gained the split. Jack

Gibbs, Joe Pepiton and Bobby Richardson all homered in the nightcap.
J. C. Martin and Danny Cater ripped eighth-inning homers that helped Chicago defeat Boston.

Baltimore slipped to fourth place, dropping its third straight to Washington. Ron Kline snuffed out an Oriole rally in the ninth, saving it for Pete Richert, 11-9. Woodie Held homered for the Senators.

Japanese Star Meets Problems

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy cause firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.
Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.
The 21-year-old left-hander was honored in pregame ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community.
With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaped the man by striking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Herald Hawks Win Little League Crown

Bingman '9' Victim Of 13-Hit Attack In 11-5 Title Tilt

The Herald Hawks clinched the Little League major crown, defeating Bingman Drugs, 11-5, Saturday morning at Ted Lewis Park.

The new champs, who finished the regular season in third place with a 7-8 mark, earned the crown on 13 hits while the winning hurler, Tom Wickerham, held the league-leading Bingman nine to seven hits.

The Hawks scored in spurts, going out for an early lead as they collected two in the opener. But Bingmans came on to tally their first marks in the third as they exploded for four. The Herald bounced back in the fourth to go ahead by one. The Drugmen tied the game in the fifth and The Hawks won in the final as they gathered six runs while shutting out Bingmans.

Tom Wickerham struck out five as he went the distance for the champs.

MARION LONG started for Bingmans and lasted three, fanning five. Rick Blankenship relieved but got into trouble in the last frame before Mike Fuller came in and finished.

Jim Mogan paced the Herald's batting power as he homered. Steve Mogan hammered a pair of triples. Phil Roll, Dennis Jackson and Robert Peters doubled with Peters getting a pair of two sackers and a single.

Jim Butts homered and doubled for Bingmans and Blankenship added a three sacker. Long and Davy doubled for the Drugmen.

Chiefs Drop OU Star after Fight

KANSAS City (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs have dropped a rookie defensive back from Ohio University who slugged a teammate.

Ron Fowlkes was dropped from the team after he punched rookie running back Doc Griffith of Auburn and broke his jaw. Griffith underwent surgery on the jaw Saturday.

The 210-pound Fowlkes and Griffith got into the altercation at the club's training camp cafeteria. Earlier on Friday, Griffith had broken Fowlkes' nose in a flare-up between the two on the practice field. They collided on a play and Griffith took several swings at Fowlkes.

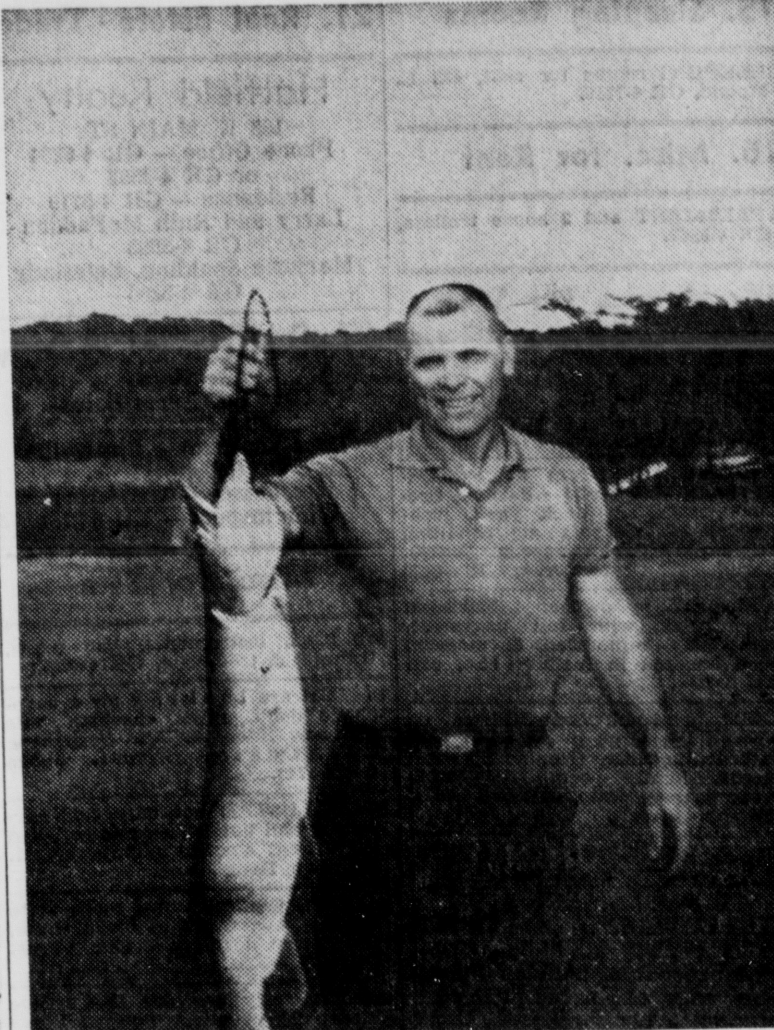

Young Track Star Called To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators called young track star Gerry Lindgren to testify today in a wide-scale probe of the row between ruling powers of U. S. amateur athletics which has caught him and others "in the middle."

The investigation, starting today, is to continue through two weeks with 42 witnesses scheduled to testify.

The Senate Commerce Committee seeks to learn in the hearings whether the fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has reached proportions endangering the careers of athletes and U.S. interests in competitions, including the Olympic Games.

Case Institute of Cleveland lost all eight football games last season.

BIGGEST — Berlin Ward, Reese Station, landed this 38½-inch, 12-pound muskie yesterday while fishing at Hargus Lake, A. W. Marion State Park.

Angler Lands Big Muskie at Hargus

Two new leaders emerged yesterday in the muskie division of the fishing contest sponsored by the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Assn.

Berlin Ward, Reese Station, landed the largest muskie that has been taken from Hargus Lake this year.

The Franklin County sportsman yesterday pulled in a 12 pound specimen that measured 38½ inches in length. It is the biggest muskie registered in the contest open to fishermen who live out of the county.

For resident anglers, Art Wilkins has both first and second in the contest.

YESTERDAY the local fishing enthusiast caught two muskies, one weighing 7-pounds and measuring 30½ inches, and another weighing 7 pounds 2 ounces and 31 inches long.

In addition to his muskies yesterday, Wilkins landed a 5 pound 13 ounce specimen July 17. For Ward, it is the second fish. He caught an 8-pound muskie July 31.

Wilkins and Ward are cousins.

The fishing contest, sponsored for the first time this

Circleville Little League Stars Top Teays Valley '9'

The Circleville League All-Stars downed the Teays Valley Stars, 13-1, yesterday in an exhibition game at Ted Lewis Park.

The Roundtowners scored in their first four times at bat, while Rod Kasler and Rick Prushing came up to hurl a three hit, one run game.

Kasler started on the mound for he locals and went the first three innings. At that time, Prushing came on. In his three inning stint, Kasler walked two, fanned four and gave up one hit.

Prushing was tounded for two hits, whiffed seven.

FOR THE losers, Duane Patricia started, and was blasted out off the mound after giving up 11 hits in three frames. He walked three and fanned four.

Forquer came on to hurl one inning, allowing three runs on two hits and three walks. Van Gregg finished the tilt. He whiffed two, walked one and held the Roundtowners hitless in his one frame performance.

All three hits by the visiting Teays Valley nine went for extra bases.

Gregg blasted a pair of doubles in three trips to the plate and Helsler poled a homerun.

For Circleville Marion Long tripled, doubled and singled twice in a perfect performance at bat.

Rick Blankenship had a double and a single in two trips, and Kasler cracked a double. Adding to the Circleville three hit attack was Fuller, who had three singles in three trips and scored all three times he reached base.

Barbara McIntire, 1964 USGA Women's Amateur golf champion, was the last amateur to gain the runnerup spot in the Women's Open. She was beaten by Mrs. Kathy Cornelius in the 1956 playoff.

Hideaway Pat Batters Own Lifetime Mark

Hideaway Pat, owned by Harlow Arledge and driven by Jim Arledge, both well known Circleville horsemen, set a life time record Saturday night with a win in 2:02 at Scioto Downs.

The best previous time for he 7-year-old pacer was a 2:02 2-5 mile.

For Arledge, it was the second win of the night. Earlier, he brought Miss Patty A. past the finish line in 2:06 4-5.

Jets on 5-Game Losing Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Columbus Jets, riding a five-game losing streak, are in danger of being replaced at the top of the International League standings by Toronto.

Toronto scored four runs in the top of the ninth inning to defeat Toledo 5-3 Sunday while Columbus lost a 15-1 decision to the last-place Buffalo Bisons. That left the Maple Leafs just one game out of first place.

In other action Atlanta dropped Jacksonville 7-3 and Syracuse took a doubleheader from Rochester, 4-1 and 7-5.

Buffalo got a total of 22 hits off four Jet pitchers, with every Biring getting at least two and driving in one run.

A two-run homer by Mike Ryan and a two-run double by Russ Gibson paced Toronto to its come-from-behind victory over Toledo.

Tebbetts Has Ouija Board Working Overtime for Him

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Birdie Tebbetts has his Ouija board working overtime so you can understand if sometimes the results are a bit slow.

Take Sunday for example. The American League-leading Minnesota Twins had defeated Tebbetts' Cleveland Indians 4-3 in the first game of a double-header and led 3-1 in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

With two out, Tebbetts was frantically looking for a way to rescue his club from a double defeat. Larry Brown singled, giving Tebbetts and his Ouija some working room. When pinch hitter Max Alvis walloped a home run, tying the score, Tebbetts and Ouija were back in the fight.

Jerry Kindall's 11th-inning homer put Birdie out on a limb again as the Indians came to bat in the bottom of the 11th. But Chicago Salmon singled and Brown doubled on Bill Pleis' first two pitches.

Salmon scored the tying run and Brown moved to third when Pleis balked pitching to Duke Sims. The first pitch to Sims was a ball when Tebbetts started getting urgent messages from his little helper.

Suddenly, there was Leon Wagner with a bat in his hands, taking over for Sims with the one ball count.

Two pitches later Wagner's 22nd home run had given Cleveland a 6-4 victory and put Minnesota in shock.

Detroit joined Cleveland in second place by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 9-2 and 9-5.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning the nightcap 7-3 after dropping the opener 4-1. Chicago topped Boston 7-4 and Washington whipped Baltimore 4-2.

In the National League, Milwaukee moved within 1½ games of league-leading Los Angeles by nipping Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings while the Dodgers were bowing to Pittsburgh 4-2. San Francisco outlasted Philadelphia 15-9. St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Detroit scored six runs in the first inning of the opener and coasted behind Joe Sparrma, 9-5. The Tigers sent 10 men to the plate with Norm Cash's homer and Willie Horton's double the big blows.

In the nightcap, Don Demeter, Ray Oyler and Gates Brown had three hits apiece and Demeter and Oyler each drove in two runs.

Rookie Jim (Catfish) Hunter pitched a four-hitter beating the Yankees in the opener.

Steven Hamilton pitched four innings of one-hit relief as the Yankees gained the split, Jack

Gibbs, Joe Pepiton and Bobby Richardson all homered in the nightcap.

J. C. Martin and Danny Cater ripped eighth-inning homers that helped Chicago defeat Boston.

Japanese Star Meets Problems

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy cause firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.

The 21-year-old left-hander was honored in pregame ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community. With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaped the man by striking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

In the American League, Minnesota nipped Cleveland 4-3 before losing 6-4 in 11 innings, Detroit swept Los Angeles 9-2 and 9-5, Washington defeated Baltimore 4-2, Chicago downed Boston 4-2, and New York knocked off Kansas City 7-3 after losing 4-1.

Jim Hart's grand slam homer in the third inning and Willie McCovey's three-run blast, his 28th, in the sixth powered the Giants' comeback. The Phillies erupted for five runs in the ninth after Pat Corrales was awarded first base on catcher Tom Haller's interference with two out and the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh executed three crucial bunts against Don Drysdale, who has had a bad knee, in cutting the Dodgers' lead to 1½ games over Milwaukee. Tom Sisk and Jim Pagniaroni bunted across runs while Bill Virdon's bunt set up two others.

Denis Menke raced home with Milwaukee's winning run in the 12th inning as Don Dillard grounded into a force play at second with the bases loaded. The Cubs had tied it 3-3 in the ninth on Ed Matthews' two-out wild throw after Mack Jones had slugged a two-run homer in the Braves' eighth.

The Cardinals exploded for eight runs in the eighth inning, wiping out a 7-4 deficit. Bill White started it with a home run, Lou Brock singled in the lead run and Bob Skinner drove in two runs with two hits in the rally. Deron Johnson, John Edwards and Vada Pinson homered for the Reds.

Al Jackson scattered seven hits for New York's second straight shutout, Ron Swoboda hit his 18th homer in the second inning.

Hideaway Pat Batters Own Lifetime Mark

Hideaway Pat, owned by Harlow Arledge and driven by Jim Arledge, both well known Circleville horsemen, set a life time record Saturday night with a win in 2:02 at Scioto Downs.

The best previous time for the 7-year-old pacer was a 2:02 2-5 mile.

Herald Hawks Win Little League Crown

Bingman '9' Victim Of 13-Hit Attack In 11-5 Title Tilt

The Herald Hawks clinched the Little League major crown, defeating Bingman Drugs, 11-5, Saturday morning at Ted Lewis Park.

The new champs, who finished the regular season in third place with a 7-8 mark, earned the crown on 13 hits while the winning hurler, Tom Wickerham, held the league-leading Bingman nine to seven hits.

The Hawks scored in spurts, going out for an early lead as they collected two in the opener. But Bingmans came on to tally their first marks in the third as they exploded for four. The Herald bounced back in the fourth to go ahead by one. The Drugmen tied the game in the fifth and The Hawks won in the finale as they gathered six runs while shutting out Bingmans.

Tom Wickerham struck out five as he went the distance for the champs.

MARION LONG started for Bingmans and lasted three, fanning five. Rick Blankenship relieved but got into trouble in the last frame before Mike Fuller came in and finished.

Jim Mogan paced the Herald's batting power as he homered. Steve Mogan hammered a pair of triples. Phil Roll, Dennis Jackson and Robert Peters doubled with Peters getting a pair of two sackers and a single.

Jim Butts homered and doubled for Bingmans and Blankenship added a three sacker. Long and Davy doubled for the Drugmen.

Chiefs Drop OU Star after Fight

KANSAS City (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs have dropped a rookie defensive back from Ohio University who slugged a teammate.

Ron Fowlkes was dropped from the team after he punched rookie running back Doc Griffith of Auburn and broke his jaw. Griffith underwent surgery on the jaw Saturday.

The 210-pound Fowlkes and Griffith got into the altercation at the club's training camp cafeteria. Earlier on Friday, Griffith had broken Fowlkes' nose in a flare-up between the two on the practice field. They collided on a play and Griffith took several swings at Fowlkes.

BIGGEST — Berlin Ward, Reese Station, landed this 38½-inch, 12-pound muskie yesterday while fishing at Hargus Lake, A. W. Marion State Park.

Angler Lands Big Muskie at Hargus

Two new leaders emerged yesterday in the muskie division of the fishing contest sponsored by the Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Assn.

Berlin Ward, Reese Station, landed the largest muskie that has been taken from Hargus Lake this year.

The Franklin County sportsman yesterday pulled in a 12 pound specimen that measured 38½-inches in length. It is the biggest muskie registered in the contest open to fishermen who live out of the county.

For resident anglers, Art Wilkins has both first and second in the contest.

YESTERDAY the local fishing enthusiast caught two muskies, one weighing 7-pounds and measuring 30½ inches, and another weighing 7 pounds 2 ounces and 31 inches long.

In addition to his muskies yesterday, Wilkins landed a 5 pound 13 ounce specimen July 17. For Ward, it is the second fish. He caught an 8-pound muskie July 31.

Wilkins and Ward are cousins.

Circleville Little League Stars Top Teays Valley '9'

The Circleville League All-Stars downed the Teays Valley Stars, 13-1, yesterday in an exhibition game at Ted Lewis Park.

The Roundtowners scored in their first four times at bat, while Rod Kasler and Rick Prushing teamed up to hurl a three hit, one run game.

Kasler started on the mound for he locals and went the first three innings. At that time, Prushing came on. In his three inning stint, Kasler walked two, fanned four and gave up one hit.

Prushing was tounced for two hits, whiffed seven.

FOR THE losers, Duane Patricia started, and was blasted out off the mound after giving up 11 hits in three frames. He walked three and fanned four.

Forquer came on to hurl one inning, allowing three runs on two hits and three walks. Van Gregg finished the tilt. He whiffed two, walked one and held the Roundtowners hitless in his one frame performance.

All three hits by the visiting Teays Valley nine went for extra bases.

Gregg blasted a pair of doubles in three trips to the plate and Helsner, poled a homerun.

For Circleville Marion Long tripled, doubled and singled twice in a perfect performance at bat.

Rick Blankenship had a double and a single in two trips, and Kaser cracked a double. Adding to the Circleville three hit attack was Fuller, who had three singles in three trips and scored all three times he reached base.

Barbara McIntire, 1964 USGA Women's Amateur golf champion, was the last amateur to gain the runnerup spot in the Women's Open. She was beaten by Mrs. Kathy Cornelius in the 1956 playoff.

Dave Marr Has New Outlook After Winning PGA Crown

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Dave Marr won an imposing array of prizes with his triumph in the 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship — $25,000 for a start, along with the prestige of capturing one of golf's four biggest titles and a handsome, coveted trophy.

But his biggest reward was confidence regained — the confidence he could be a winner.

"I was convinced I would never win again," the trim Texan, choked with emotion and near tears, said Sunday after his stirring two-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper at Laurel Valley's golf club.

"When I blew the Insurance Open three weeks ago I said to my wife, 'Susie, I'm just never going to win a tournament'... I thought maybe it was the end of the line."

But Marr faced the challenges of Laurel Valley—the pressure, the heat, the threats of proven champions Nicklaus and Casper—and won for the first time in over three years. He went into the fourth round tied with Tommy Aaron, four under par for 54 holes.

Gardner Dickinson was one stroke behind, with Nicklaus and Casper two back.

Aaron, playing in the three-some ahead with Casper and Sam Snead, came apart completely. But after nine holes, Casper had pulled into a first-place tie with Marr while Nicklaus and Dickinson — playing with Marr — were only a shot back.

However, Marr regained command with birdies on 10 and 11, then clinched it with scrambling, vital pars on the two tough closing holes. His even par 71 gave him a 280. Nicklaus, also with a 71, matched Casper's final-day score and 282 total.

Nicklaus, the heavy pretourney favorite and winner of the Thunderbird and Philadelphia Classics the past two weeks, got $12,500 for a neat sum of $56,800 in three successive tournaments. The Masters champion has won $126,500 for the year, just $1,730 shy of the record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

Bo Winger, colorful 44-year-old veteran, zoomed up to fourth place with a torrid 66, giving him a 283. Dickinson faded to 74, for a 284 and fifth, while Snead shot a 72 and tied at 285 with Australian Bruce Devlin, who had a 70.

Aaron, a noted fast starter seeking his first victory, led the first two rounds and shared first with Marr after three, but once again collapsed. He blew a 78, tying at 287 with Jack Burke, Jr., and 288 with Jack Burke, Jr. and Rod Funseth and Bob McCallister.

Palmer, Laurel Valley's home pro and idolized demigod in these Western Pennsylvania highlands, closed with his fourth straight over-par round. He posted a 73 to go with earlier scores of 72-75-74 for 294.

The 6-4 victory on Leon Wagner's homer in the 11th inning gave them a split in the double-header and three victories in four games with the league leaders.

More than that, it kept alive the pennant hopes of the Indians, who are tied with Detroit for second, eight games back of the leaders.

Twins Manager Sam Mele had said before the weekend series that the Tribe needed at least three victories in the head-to-head competition to stay alive in the pennant race. It was a glum Mele who sat in the clubhouse after Sunday's five-hour and 33-minute battle.

"We gave it to them," said Mele. "We bailed in a run. We had the game in our pocket." The Twins had won the opener 4-3 despite some ninth-inning heroics, highlighted by Wagner's two-run homer.

They carried a 3-1 margin into the ninth in the second game and were only one pitch away from victory when Max Alvis, who had been too sick to start, drilled a home run with one on to tie the score.

Then in the top of the 11th former Indiana Jerry Kindall hit a pinch homer off Jack Kralic, the fifth Cleveland pitcher, to put the Twins ahead again.

But the Indians refused to quit, and the first two Tribesmen came up with hits. Chico Salmon singled, and Larry Duke Sims at bat, Pleis rocked into his delivery, then stopped. Pleis pitched only once to Sims. Tribe Manager Birdie Tebbetts then called Sims back and sent Wagner in as a pinch hitter—even though that meant he would have to call on his No. 4 catcher, Chuck Hinton, to come in from the outfield to catch if Pleis got out of the jam.

But Wagner slammed a curve ball into the Tribe bullpen for his second two-run homer of the day, and the game was over.

Jim Grant, another former Indian, won the opener with some help from Al Worthington, becoming the first American League pitcher to win 15 games.

Luis Tiant held the Twins to one run on three hits until the eighth, retiring 16 batters in a row at one stretch. Tebbetts removed him for a pinch hitter, and the Twins came up with three runs on four hits off Bob Tiefenauer and Dn McMahon in the ninth.

Vikings Future Holds Promise

MINNESOTA VIKINGS
By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings' lakeside retreat bubbles with optimism. The Dutchman, called Norm Van Brecklin, talks of winning. So do Fran Tarkenton, Tommy Mason, Bill Brown and the others.

In five short years this franchise, born of expansion, has reached the stage of a bonafide contender for the Western Conference championship in the National Football League. Judicious draft choices, wise trades and the painstaking organization of head coach Van Brecklin are about ready to pay off.

"We've come to camp with the idea we're going to have our best year," said the Dutchman at Bemidji State College. Yes, I think we can win it. That's what we're in the league for — to win. The last time I felt like this was in 1960, our championship year in Philadelphia."

When a visitor remarked that several selectors had picked the Vikings to win, the Dutchman said, "The writers are getting smarter."

The record is clear for all to see: seventh in 1961, sixth in 1962, fourth-place tie in 1963 and second-place tie in 1964. From a rag tag band of castoffs, who won only three games and gave up 407 points in '61, Van Brecklin has moulded a team that had the NFL in passing, was second in rushing and fourth in scoring last fall.

"Tarkenton is just that far from being a great quarterback," said Van Brecklin, bringing his thumb and first finger a half inch apart. "We want him to get rid of the ball a little quicker and he's been working on it since the first day in camp. He scrambles a little now and then but not as often as you think. Most important, he gets the job done. The best way to play defense is to play offense more."

Van Brecklin's Vikings run the ball more often than they threw, following the pattern of Green Bay. Last year they ran 519 plays and passed 326 times.

"Tommy Mason and Bill Brown are as good as you could want for runners," said the Dutchman. "We need somebody behind Mason and hope Phil King can do the job. We're also figuring on Lance Rentzel (rookie from Oklahoma) as a running back."

"Our receivers are going to be great. Paul Flatley is one of the best in the league at split end and Hal Bedesle at tight end is the fastest we have. He has the right attitude now."

"We get Red Phillips from Los Angeles, and all-pro player in the deal for Jack Snow, and we expect Red to pick up where he left off before he was sidelined with that infected right knuckle. We also have Tom Hall, Bob Lacey and others."

"Mick Tingelhoff finally got recognition as an all-league center last year. Alderman is a great tackle and Harry Bowie has come on strong at guard. The rest of the offensive line probably will be Eric Linden at right tackle and Milt Sunde or Ken Byers at guard, unless some of the rookies come on fast."

Van Brecklin rates Jim Marshall, his defensive right end, as the best pass rusher in the league, and thinks Carl Eller, 6-foot-6, 225-pound second year from Minnesota, can be just as good. Jim Prestel and Paul Dickson are the regular tackles but Gary Larson, acquired from the Rams, may replace one.

Ray Winston, Hawkins and Bill Jebke are the linebackers, reading from left to right. Lee Callander, George Rose and Ed Sharockman will man the corners. The chief weakness, if any, is at safety. Karl Kassulke and Larry Varge did a good job last year but rookie Jeff Jordan of Tulsa may edge one.

Van Brecklin expects to carry three quarterbacks with Ron VanderKelen and rookie Bob Berry of Oregon behind Tarkenton. Berry has been impressive in camp.

Bobby Walden developed into the league's top punter as a rookie in 1964. Fred Cox will handle the place kicking again. Next Detroit

McKinley Heads Home with Trophy

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Chuck McKinley, America's second ranking tennis player, took his winner's trophy home from the 76th Meadow Club Invitation Grass Court Tournament, and then headed for the office.

Gene Scott, America's fifth-ranking player who was dethroned in this event by McKinley, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6, 10-8, Sunday, took his consolation trophy home and went to sleep.

Each has decided to forego any more tennis until the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills beginning Sept. 3.

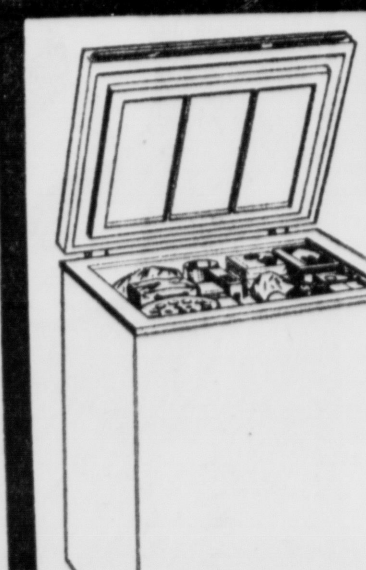

The rest of the tennis troupe is at Newport, R.I., starting today, and then will go on to the National Doubles at Brookline, Mass. By then, America's other high-ranking players — Dennis Ralston, Arthur Ashe and Frank Froehling — will have returned from the Davis Cup matches in Spain.

Five members of the 1924 Washington Senators managed in the major leagues. They were Bucky Harris, Ossie Bluege, Roger Pleckinpaugh, Harold (Muddy) Ruel and Walter Johnson.

Collier Heaps Praise on Youngsters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Blanton Collier had praise for the "youngsters" after the Cleveland Browns defeated the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday, but it was the "old man" of the staff who put the biggest number of points on the scoreboard.

Lou (The Toe) Groza, 41, the lone survivor from the original Browns team of 1946, kicked three field goals—one of them a 51-yarder — and four extra points to account for 14 points.

A second-year man, Leroy Kelly, turned in the most spectacular scoring run of the day, dashing 67 yards with a punt in the third quarter, and another "youngster", Walter Roberts, also had a good day.

The Browns' first National Football League exhibition of the season started off like a continuation of their 27-0 victory over the Baltimore Colts Dec. 27, when Frank Ryan hit Gary Collins on three touchdown passes to wrap up the NFL championship.

Ryan tossed two touchdown passes to Collins in the first period Sunday and the Browns took a 14-0 lead.

Collier gave Collins and Ryan a rest in the second quarter and tried Roberts at flanker. Roberts responded by taking four passes for 92 yards, including a 22-yard scoring pass from Jim Ninowski.

Ryan and Ninowski both looked good, hitting on the big ones. Ryan completed six of 17 attempts for 134 yards and Ninowski five of 12 for 155 yards.

Archie Roberts made his debut at quarterback and connected on his first pass to Roberts for 16 yards.

Tribe Happy With Their Late Surge

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians were justifiably jubilant over the late-inning surge that brought them from the brink of defeat to victory over the Minnesota Twins in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader.

The 6-4 victory on Leon Wagner's homer in the 11th inning gave them a split in the doubleheader and three victories in four games with the league leaders.

More than that, it kept alive the pennant hopes of the Indians, who are tied with Detroit for second, eight games back of the leaders.

Twins Manager Sam Mele had said before the weekend series that the Tribe needed at least three victories in the head-to-head competition to stay alive in the pennant race. It was a glum Mele who sat in the clubhouse after Sunday's five-hour and 33-minute battle.

"We gave it to them," said Mele. "We balked in a run. We had the game in our pocket."

The Twins had won the opener 4-3 despite some ninth-inning heroics, highlighted by Wagner's two-run homer.

They carried a 3-1 margin into the ninth in the second game and were only one pitch away from victory when Max Alvis, who had been too sick to start, drilled a home run with one on to tie the score.

Then in the top of the 11th former Indiana Jerry Kindall hit a pinch homer off Jack Kralic, the fifth Cleveland pitcher, to put the Twins ahead again.

But the Indians refused to quit, and the first two Tribesmen came up with hits. Chico Salmon singled, and Larry Duke Sims at bat, Pleis rocked into his delivery, then stopped.

Pleis pitched only once to Sims. Tribe Manager Birdie Tebbetts then called Sims back and sent Wagner in as a pinch hitter—even though that meant he would have to call on his No. 4 catcher, Chuck Hinton, to come in from the outfield to catch if Pleis got out of the jam.

But Wagner slammed a curve ball into the Tribe bullpen for his second two-run homer of the day, and the game was over.

Jim Grant, another former Indian, won the opener with some help from Al Worthington, becoming the first American League pitcher to win 15 games.

Luis Tiant held the Twins to one run on three hits until the eighth, retiring 16 batters in a row at one stretch. Tebbetts removed him for a pinch hitter, and the Twins came up with three runs on four hits off Bob Tiefenauer and Du McMahon in the ninth.

Ohioans Seek Relief from Pesky Heat

Traffic Is Heavy, But Fatality Count Stays Low at 11

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohioans seeking relief from the sweltering heat crowded the state's highways over the weekend, heading for lakes and parks.

Despite the heavy travel, Ohio had a relatively light fatality count, with the toll reaching only 11.

Five others drowned and four were killed in miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 20.

The worst traffic accident occurred Friday night when a car-truck collision at the intersection of U.S. 30 and Ohio 250 in Harrison County wiped out a family of three.

The fatalities:
Friday night:
Denzil L. Fannin, 24, Fairborn.

Austin E. Smith, 37, his wife, Donna, 33, and their 4-year-old daughter, Susan, of St. Clairsville, in a car-truck collision at the intersection of U.S. 30 and 250 in Harrison County, five miles east of the Tuscarawas County line.

Mrs. Wealtha Urban, 53, of Swanton, in two-car collision west of Toledo.

Saturday
John McMillan, 21, Fremont, in two-car collision on Ohio 53 five miles southwest of Port Clinton.

Carl Cozad, 23, Chillicothe, electrocuted when power saw he was using apparently shorted as he worked on a Columbus house.

Lester E. Mohny, 32, Fort Wayne, Ind., in car-truck collision on U.S. 24 about five miles northeast of Waterville in Lucas County.

Amy Moler, 5, of Westmont, Ill., drowned in a private lake near Warren.

Janet Louise Kellett, 13 months, New Albany, drowned in the Muskingum River near Zanesville while on an outing with her parents.

Joseph A. Conit Jr., 28, Columbus, drowned in the Hoover Reservoir when he slipped while pulling his small son to safety.

Larry Kelly, 16, Ontario, when his car went out of control on Ohio 97 west of Lexington in Richland County and struck a tree.

Roger Ryder, 18, Oak Harbor, in a one-car accident on Ohio 2 near Port Clinton.

Unidentified man, in explosion and fire at a golf driving range office near Columbus.

Sunday
Lorna Monroe, 6, Xenia, when cut by glass after she ran through a storm door.

Andrew Leavitt, 2, of Macedonia, after swallowing some weed killer he found in a garage at his home.

Tina Marie Heim, 3, Columbus, drowned in Burr Lake near Athens.

Peter Mandzia, Cleveland, drowned in a lake on a farm near Wellington.

Fred Watlers, 73, Cleveland, in two-car crash near Huntsburg in Geauga County.

John W. Meckel, 48, Berea, when his motorcycle sideswiped a car in Middleburg Heights, a Cleveland suburb.

FIRES SET BY RACE RIOTERS—Set afire by race rioters in a Negro section of Los Angeles, three buildings burn (left) on Avalon Boulevard and a surplus store burns at the right. Firemen were unable to enter the mob-ruled area, and total damage from fires will range from $5 million to $10 millions, fire officials said.

RIOTING LOOTERS AT WORK IN LIQUOR STORE—Looters turn on the lights so they can see better as they work their way through a liquor store in the Negro Watts district of Los Angeles, a battlefield of looting, fires and assaults during the third straight night of vicious race rioting. At least 14 persons died before National Guardsmen suppressed the riot, and damage was estimated at more than $10 million.

"We know some of the terrorists are sneaking out of the Watts area," said a high police official. "We stopped cars of men heading toward white sections from Watts with loads of gasoline bombs."

Inside the military perimeter thrown around the Negro section by guardsmen, shortages developed.

Whole blocks of businesses were looted and burned by pillaging mobs—among them many drug stores and markets. Most of those which remained undamaged were closed.

An 8 p.m.-to-dawn curfew kept residents from seeking food and drugs elsewhere.

Gov. Brown announced Sunday night:

"There is a serious shortage of food in some neighborhoods in the riot areas. It is important to re-establish normal business and public service in South Los Angeles."

Word that troops had helped Los Angeles law officers regain possession of the riot center brought an expression of relief Sunday from President Johnson.

At Miami, Fla., Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said he planned to travel to Los Angeles "in the next few days" at the request of Negro leaders in the area.

The Nobel prize-winning civil rights leaders said he would visit Watts, once order was restored, to deal with the underlying social problems.

What caused the riots?

—Los Angeles Chief of Police William Parker said civil rights demonstrations had conditioned Negroes to be ready for violent action.

—Bernice Ennis, assistant professor of clinical psychiatry at the University of Southern California, partially blamed a week-long heat wave: "The excessive heat acts as a stimulant and stress on already quite strained individuals."

—Psychologist James R. Silber blamed economic disadvantages and conditions in an area which is 98 per cent Negro: "The ghetto contributes to a sense of isolation, loneliness, differentness and separateness—working together to create resentment."

Long Beach Police, aided by Los Angeles officers and National Guard units, curbed lawlessness at the city's Negro section and said control was complete there.

They said the officer killed by gunfire may have been hit by a discharge fired as another officer struggled with an armed Negro.

The San Diego riot was also brought under control.

Negro newsmen who mingled with the mob—on streets where white men were beaten mercilessly—noted a surprising aspect: the Negroes rioted with jubilation. Their excited battlecry: "Burn, baby, burn!"

Many of the homes destroyed in the more than 2,000 major fires, however, were those of Negroes. A white fireman, Battalion Chief Ken Long, 40, said he and his men were driven away by sniper fire as they sought to save a home.

Said Long: "This is my district. These were all professional firemen. We knew we could beat this fire if we had the chance. We had to pull off. The people whose house was burning just stood there looking at us. When we got back all there was to do was wet the ashes."

Police Hunt Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police continued a search today for the slayer of a Columbus man shot on an East Side street Saturday night.

Witnesses said Harlis Moss, 27, was shot four times after a quarrel with his assailant outside a bar.

TV Heroes Seem Trivial Now in LA

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television's make-believe, with its back-lot battles and fun-loving fighting men, seemed trivial and downright silly in Los Angeles during the past few terror-filled days and nights.

For drama, the city's television stations had plenty of the real thing. Live shots from a hovering helicopter, for instance, showed looters stripping a smoldering store and strolling off with the stolen property.

Film taken from inside a car in the riot zone caught a tall youth in the act of heaving a rock that smashed the car's windshield.

A camera, panning slowly down a business street, showed smoking skeletons of buildings, smashed store fronts with ravaged showcases, mannequins from a clothing store display tossed in a gutter.

The scenes must have been shocking to any viewer, but to those of us only a short distance away and aware the situation was completely out of control, it was frightening.

When we saw the first units of the National Guard marching grimly down one riot-scarred street with fixed bayonets it was like the end of a long nightmare.

But although the television stations turned in the more spectacular jobs, it was radio to which an alarmed resident could turn at any moment for an up-to-the-minute report when rumors were springing up like mushrooms all over the city.

It is going to be hard to concentrate on the production problems of "The Long Hot Summer," a new entertainment series, while the memory of this long, hot weekend is so vivid. "Combat" was never this real.

Replacements Sought for Fair Post

Pickaway County's Agricultural Society has launched steps to find a replacement for William L. Cook who resigned last week as secretary-manager of the County Fair.

Charles Rose, president of the Agricultural Society, said efforts will be made to name a manager, plus a bookkeeper-secretary on a part-time basis. He said both posts call for male employment.

Other eligibility requirements for the two positions call for applicants between the ages of 25 and 50. They must be residents of Pickaway County. Applications may be secured at the County Auditor's office in the Courthouse.

Rose said applications are to be in by Sept. 13. They may be mailed to Box 268, Circleville.

COOK announced his resignation last Monday night during a meeting of the Agricultural Society. He did not elaborate on his reasons for quitting the post he has held since 1957.

Cook's salary amounted to about $5,000 annually. His resignation becomes effective Dec. 31 of this year.

According to Rose, a salary schedule is being worked out for the two posts to be filled.
